Executive Summary

The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) recommends that the Judicial Council authorize, in accordance with Government Code section 71622(a), two positions for subordinate judicial officers (SJOs) at the Superior Court of California, County of San Bernardino. The court has a workload need for subordinate judicial officers in excess of its current authorized number, plus a demonstrated need for more judicial officers. These positions will replace two existing hearing officer positions; the court will pay for the cost out of its budget. Without the authorization for these two positions, the delivery of justice in San Bernardino would be even more severely affected.

Recommendation

The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) recommends that the Judicial Council authorize, in accordance with Government Code section 71622(a), two positions for subordinate judicial officers (SJOs) at the Superior Court of California, County of San Bernardino.

Previous Council Action

Trial courts have the authority to appoint subordinate judicial officers (SJOs) to meet specified workload demands, but the number and type of SJO positions in each trial court have been subject to Judicial Council approval under Government Code section 71622(a)¹ since January 1, 2001.

Effective February 23, 2007, the Judicial Council adopted a policy delegating to its Executive and Planning Committee (E&P) the approval of requests from trial courts to change the number of subordinate judicial officer positions. Three elements are required:

- The court must fund and bear all costs of any additional SJO positions.
- The most recent council approved Judicial Needs Assessment demonstrates that the requesting court's excess SJO workload justifies the additional SJO positions (SJO workload in excess of its authorized SJO positions).
- The excess SJO workload cannot be handled with the court's existing judicial resources, because the court has severe judicial need.

Since that time, the only requests to the Judicial Council to authorize additional subordinate judicial officer positions have been for the temporary authorization of 2, and later 3, positions for the Superior Court of Riverside County, in connection with the effort to reduce that court's criminal case backlog through a strike force of active and retired judges assigned by former Chief Justice Ronald M. George. Effective August 24, 2007, the Judicial Council approved two temporary SJO positions to supplement this judicial strike force. These temporary positions were to terminate four months later, on December 31, 2007. Upon request from the Riverside court, the council extended those positions twice by circulating orders, until June 30, 2008, and then to June 30, 2009. In the second circulating order, the council authorized a third temporary position, with the same June 30, 2009, termination date. At its April 2009, April 2010, and April 2011 meetings, the council extended the authorization for these three positions through the following June 30.

Rationale for Recommendation

The San Bernardino presiding judge states² that these two additional subordinate judicial officer positions will replace two existing juvenile hearing officer positions and that the court will pay for the cost of the two new commissioners out of its budget. The replacement of these hearing officers with commissioners will provide greater flexibility so that the court can consolidate its high volume calendars to produce operational efficiencies.

¹ "Each trial court may establish and may appoint any subordinate judicial officers that are deemed necessary for the performance of subordinate judicial duties, as authorized by law to be performed by subordinate judicial officers. However, the number and type of subordinate judicial officers in a trial court shall be subject to approval by the Judicial Council. Subordinate judicial officers shall serve at the pleasure of the trial court." Gov. Code, §71622(a), emphasis supplied.

² Attachment A is the May 25, 2011, request from the Presiding Judge of the San Bernardino court for the authorization of two subordinate judicial officer positions.

As demonstrated below, the San Bernardino court satisfies the other two criteria set by the Judicial Council in February 2007:

- An excess of SJO workload above the number of authorized SJO positions.
- Judicial need

The data demonstrates that San Bernardino has severe judicial need and an excess of SJO workload above its authorized SJO positions. The most recent update of the Judicial Workload Assessment was submitted to the Legislature in November, 2010. According to that update (a copy of Table 3 in that update is attached [Attachment B]), and the 2010 Court Statistics Report (a copy of Table 12a in that report is attached [Attachment C]), the Superior Court of San Bernardino County has a severe overall judicial need. It currently has 78 authorized judge positions and 13 authorized SJO positions, a total of 91 authorized judicial positions. The May, 2011 Judicial Vacancy Report (8011) shows 1 position that is vacant, pending appointment by the Governor. An additional seven judgeships were authorized by Assembly Bill 159 but are not yet funded. [Attachment D] Thus, there are only 83 judges and SJOs filling the 91 authorized positions in San Bernardino. The total estimated need in San Bernardino under the 2010 update on the judicial workload assessment is 156.7 judicial officers. This means that the Superior Court of San Bernardino has a need of 65.7 judicial officers over the number of authorized positions, and a need of 73.7 judicial officers over the number of currently filled positions. The delay in funding for the authorized judges under AB 159 has exacerbated the court's workload.

The Superior Court of San Bernardino County has a net SJO workload of 1.8 above the complement of authorized SJOs in the court. San Bernardino has workload appropriate to 14.8 SJOs [Attachment E] but currently is only authorized to have 13 SJO positions [Attachment C]. It would be impractical to authorize and employ a fractional number of positions; this fractional net need, therefore, is rounded up in this proposal to 2 positions.

Comments, Alternatives Considered, and Policy Implications

This request to authorize two SJO positions for the Superior Court of San Bernardino County helps address the backlog of cases in that court and improves access to justice for the users of the San Bernardino court.

The alternative of not approving this recommendation would result in the court continuing to employ two juvenile hearing officers, who are more limited than commissioners in the judicial services that they provide. This alternative would limit the court in consolidating several high volume calendars which would allow it to improve its adaptation to the financial and operational challenges facing it in providing services to the public.

Public comment has not been solicited on this proposal because it pertains to court staffing for the requesting court consonant with the principles of decentralized management in California Rules of Court 10.601 et seq.

Implementation Requirements, Costs, and Operational Impacts

The requesting court will pay the cost of filling these two positions, as it has been doing for the hearing officer positions which are intended to be replaced. Attached is the May 25, 2011, letter from the presiding judge stating that the court will bear the cost of these two positions (Attachment A).

Relevant Strategic Plan Goals and Operational Plan Objectives

Because this proposal will allow the court to replace two hearing officers with two commissioners during a lean budget year with uncertainty about when the Legislature will fund the authorized AB 159 judgeships, it supports branch Goal I, Access to Justice.

RE: COMMISSIONER POSITIONS

Dear Justice Huffman:

I am writing to you to obtain your advice and guidance with regard to asking the Judicial Council to authorize two additional commissioner positions for the San Bernardino County Superior Court.

I well understand the Judicial Council's reluctance to authorize such positions -- feeling as it does that the Branch is better served by advocating for additional judgeships, and acting to convert existing commissioner positions to judgeships, to meet our ever increasing caseloads. While I appreciate the wisdom of the Judicial Council's long-term view on this issue, I find myself keenly focused on the somewhat shorter-term needs of this court. With all of that in mind, I note the following:

1. According to the latest caseload study conducted by the National Center for State Courts, the Superior Court of San Bernardino County carries the highest non-infraction per judge caseload in the entire state -- totaling almost 2,600 non-infraction cases per judge per year.
2. According to the latest assessment of SJO needs by the Office of Court Research, the Superior Court of San Bernardino County has an unmet need for an additional 1.8 SJOs.
3. The Superior Court of San Bernardino County will bear the entire cost of the two additional commissioner positions, with no demand placed on the Branch for financial assistance in that regard. (If we can obtain those two positions, we would be able to terminate the employment of two juvenile hearing officers and use those salary savings to offset the cost of the new commissioners.)

Justice Richard D. Huffman
May 25, 2011

4. The addition of two additional commissioners would give us significantly greater flexibility in covering high volume calendars which we are consolidating (or are in the process of planning to consolidate) in order to effectuate greater operational savings.

As a practical matter, the prospect of additional judgeships being allocated to the trial courts does not appear to be forthcoming in the foreseeable future. Not only does the current Governor seem somewhat "casual" in addressing vacancies on the various courts (including the Supreme Court itself), but there is no reason to assume that the Legislature will act any time soon to bring the remaining one hundred "promised judgeships" (fourteen of which were to come to the Superior Court of San Bernardino County) into being.

I realize that none of this comes to you as surprising news. I am simply asking for your advice and guidance on how I can best provide the leadership and effective advocacy on this issue that my proud bench deserves.

Sincerely,

DOUGLAS M. ELWELL
Presiding Judge
