10. Projects Assigned by the Ad Hoc Workgroup on Post-Pandemic Initiatives (P3). Members held 16 meetings to address the four subject matter areas assigned to the Court Executives Advisory Committee (CEAC) with the assistance of the Trial Court Presiding Judges Advisory Committee (TCPJAC): 1) expand options for e-filling and e-signatures, 2) maintain and improve online self-help services and live chat on court websites, 3) improve the juror experience, and 4) use of staggered calendar for court hearings.

Discussions focused on promoting consistency when Judicial Council advisory bodies are considering proposals related to remote access and electronic court records. Meeting discussions reviewed the importance of courts updating e-filling and e-signatures practices as well as information on file with the IT office at the Judicial Council. Implementation self-help website services, such as on-line chat or chatbot experiences, were discussed at length and added as a topic in CEAC's subject matter expert listing. The juror experience topic was referred to the CEAC Jury Administration and Management Subcommittee (JAMS) for ongoing work. A repository of subject matter experts on staggering court calendars was created and includes a list of courts who implemented the procedure along with documentation of the benefits and challenges for both the courts and their justice partners.
