Executive Summary and Origin

The Criminal Law Advisory Committee recommends revisions to the optional Judicial Council felony plea form to reflect statutory changes regarding the right to a trial on circumstances in aggravation justifying the imposition of the upper term of a criminal offense or enhancement, and to improve consistency throughout the form.

Background

Senate Bill 567 (Stats. 2021 ch. 731) amended Penal Code sections 1170 and 1170.1 to state that a court may impose an upper term of custody for a criminal offense or enhancement if aggravating factors were found true beyond a reasonable doubt at trial or stipulated to by the defendant, with specified exceptions. A court executive officer requested a revision of the optional felony plea form to reflect these statutory changes.

While the appellate courts are split on whether section 1170(b) applies to plea agreements (compare People v. Mitchell (2022) 83 Cal.App.5th 1051, review granted Dec. 14, 2022, and People v. Sallee (2023) 88 Cal.App.5th 330 with People v. Todd (2023) 88 Cal.App.5th 373), at this point, the committee's position is that it is a best practice for trial courts to make findings about circumstances in aggravation on the record as part of the plea, when relevant.

The Proposal

The proposal would revise Plea Form, With Explanations and Waiver of Rights—Felony (CR-101) to reflect the statutory changes regarding the right to a trial on circumstances in aggravation justifying the imposition of the upper term of a criminal offense or enhancement.

In addition to referencing the charged offenses, the plea form refers to additional sentencing considerations because of prior convictions, enhancements, and alternate sentencing schemes, but characterizes those considerations collectively as "allegations" in some sections and as "prior convictions, enhancements, and special allegations" in others. These references are inconsistent and interspersed throughout the form. The proposal would improve consistency throughout the form by referring to the admission of prior convictions, enhancements, allegations, and/or circumstances in aggravation specifically, when relevant.

The proposal would also replace references to "special allegations" with "allegations." The committee agreed that, in practice, "allegations" is the common term to refer to alternative sentencing schemes and that the term "special allegations" was confusing because it could be confused with special circumstances as defined in Penal Code section 190.2. Some committee members were concerned that "allegation" was too broad a term and could be interpreted to apply to the alleged charges or everything alleged in the complaint, rather than just an alternative sentencing scheme. However, the committee ultimately agreed that the manner in which "allegation" was used in the plea form—alongside prior convictions, enhancements, and circumstances in aggravation—sufficiently narrowed the definition from a broader interpretation.

Alternatives Considered

The committee did not consider the alternative of taking no action, determining that it was important to revise the forms to implement legislative changes.

Fiscal and Operational Impacts

As an optional form, expected costs should be limited to training, possible case management system updates, and the production of new forms. No other implementation requirements or operational impacts are expected.

Request for Specific Comments

In addition to comments on the proposal as a whole, the advisory committee is interested in comments on the following:

Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose?

The advisory committee also seeks comments from courts on the following cost and implementation matters:

- Would the proposal provide cost savings? If so, please quantify.
- What would the implementation requirements be for courts—for example, training staff (please identify position and expected hours of training), revising processes and procedures (please describe), changing docket codes in case management systems, or modifying case management systems?
- Would three months from Judicial Council approval of this proposal until its effective date provide sufficient time for implementation?
- How well would this proposal work in courts of different sizes?
