

CODE OF FEDERAL REGULATIONS

Title 8. Aliens and Nationality

Chapter I. Department of Homeland Security

Subchapter B. Immigration Regulations

Part 205. Revocation of Approval of Petitions

8 C.F.R. § 205.1 Automatic revocation [does not reflect TVPRA 2008 amendments)

(a) Reasons for automatic revocation. The approval of a petition or self-petition made under section 204 of the Act and in accordance with part 204 of this chapter is revoked as of the date of approval:

(1)–(2) * * *

(3) If any of the following circumstances occur before the beneficiary's or self-petitioner's journey to the United States commences or, if the beneficiary or self-petitioner is an applicant for adjustment of status to that of a permanent resident, before the decision on his or her adjustment application becomes final:

(i)–(iii) * * *

(iv) Special immigrant juvenile petitions.

Unless the beneficiary met all of the eligibility requirements as of November 29, 1990, and the petition requirements as of November 29, 1990, and the petition for classification as a special immigrant juvenile was filed before June 1, 1994, or unless the change in circumstances resulted from the beneficiary's adoption or placement in a guardianship situation:

- (A) Upon the beneficiary reaching the age of 21;
- (B) Upon the marriage of the beneficiary;
- (C) Upon the termination of the beneficiary's dependency upon the juvenile court;
- (D) Upon the termination of the beneficiary's eligibility for long-term foster care; or
- (E) Upon the determination in administrative or judicial proceedings that it is in the beneficiary's best interest to be returned to the country of nationality or last habitual residence of the beneficiary or of his or her parent or parents.

(b) Notice. When it shall appear to the director that the approval of a petition has been automatically revoked, he or she shall cause a notice of such revocation to be sent promptly to the consular office having jurisdiction over the visa application and a copy of such notice to be mailed to the petitioner's last known address.
