

Background on the Bench-Bar Coalition

The statewide Bench-Bar Coalition (BBC) was formed in 1993 under the leadership of the California Association of Local Bars (CALB), the State Bar of California, and the Judicial Council to enhance communication and coordinate activities with the state, local, and specialty bar associations on issues of common interest to the judicial branch—particularly in the legislative arena. Securing adequate, dependable, and stable funding for the trial courts has been a primary focus for the BBC. BBC membership is open to members of the bench and bar including judges and the presidents, past-presidents, presidents-elect, executive directors, or other person(s) designated by the president, of state, local, minority, or specialty bar associations; legal services organizations; or statewide organizations dedicated to improving the justice system.

The BBC is currently cochaired by Judge Russ Roeca of the Superior Court of San Francisco and Mr. Philip Nulud, Attorney, Los Angeles. Judge Roeca represents the Northern/Central California region and Mr. Nulud represents the Southern California region. Members of the BBC's Executive Committee support the cochairs in carrying out leadership responsibilities on quarterly conference calls, meetings, working groups, and related coalition activities.

In addition to its quarterly conference calls, the Bench-Bar Coalition holds meetings in conjunction with the State Bar of California and the judicial branch. The statewide BBC also participates with a Day in Sacramento, in which groups of judges and bar leaders meet with their legislators to discuss issues of mutual interest, with emphasis on the judicial branch budget. Judicial Council members and leaders of special commissions and task forces also are invited to participate in this event, which is held annually in conjunction with the State of the Judiciary address by the Chief Justice of California.

The BBC has been successful in the development of strong working relationships and increased communication between the judiciary and members of the bar, as well as enhanced advocacy efforts with the legislative and executive branches. Subject areas of joint interest include the judicial branch budget and the need for stable, adequate funding; access to justice; court technology; new judgeships; and courthouse construction.
