RECOVERY HOUSING PROGRAM GUIDANCE

The Cal ICH Recovery Housing Program Guidance supports system leaders and program administrators operating state-funded Recovery Housing Programs (RHPs) in aligning with California's Housing First requirements. It ensures that state-funded RHPs honor participant choice, reduce barriers, and provide voluntary, person-centered recovery services—while upholding housing stability.

Recovery Housing Programs can align with Housing First—and when using state funds, they must.

These key principles offer a roadmap for Recovery Housing Programs serving people experiencing homelessness as they navigate the path to recovery and stable housing:

- Alignment with Housing First: RHPs must meet the 11 core components of Housing First, including low-barrier access, voluntary services, tenant rights, and equitable screening and referral policies.
- Person-Centered Care & Harm Reduction: RHPs ensure participants are at the center of their service plans and are referred to the housing and services options that meet their needs. RHPs must accommodate the use of medication-assisted treatment (MAT) and incorporate evidence-based practices such as motivational interviewing and trauma-informed care.
- Participant Choice: Entry into RHPs must be voluntary (unless court-ordered). Programs must offer alternative housing options for individuals who decline or exit recovery housing.
- No Eviction for Relapse: Programs cannot remove participants solely for substance use. Instead, relapse support should be offered and transitions to other appropriate housing facilitated when necessary.

The California Interagency Council on Homelessness (Cal ICH) is the lead entity for coordinating state efforts to prevent and end homelessness. For questions about this guidance or California's Housing First requirements, please contact Cal ICH at calich@bcsh.ca.gov.

Interagency Council on Homelessness

A Message from Governor Gavin Newsom

I applaud the California Interagency Council on Homelessness for their work in developing this Action Plan. It is not just a report of our investments, but a directive for continued accountability and action towards specific quantifiable goals.

Under my Administration, California has made unprecedented investments to address homelessness, dedicating billions of dollars to building affordable housing, expanding essential services, and supporting our most vulnerable residents. The investments and our work are producing strong results. California has bucked national trends by blunting our state's decades-long increase in people experiencing unsheltered homelessness. We have increased the number of people accessing shelter and services statewide. We're doing more than ever to keep people from becoming homeless in the first place, and we have increased accountability to ensure that everyone is doing their part to address homelessness in their communities.

Our state's efforts are improving people's lives, but we know there is still much more to do. The success of this effort depends on our shared commitment to the Californians counting on us.

Together, let us rise to meet this moment and make the promise of a better California for all.

A Message from the Cal ICH Co-Chairs

With the adoption of California’s three-year Statewide Action Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness, we embark on a transformative journey to address one of the most urgent crises facing our state. California has made unprecedented investments to address the housing and homelessness crises, with $40 billion invested to help communities create more housing and $27 billion provided to communities to help prevent and end homelessness. Core strategies to achieving these goals have included:

- Creating innovative financing mechanisms, such as Homekey and Community Care Expansion, to spur the creation of new housing units and residential settings.
- Providing communities with flexible resources that include strengthened accountability to ensure impact, such as the Homeless Housing, Assistance and Prevention (HHAP) and Encampment Resolution Funding (ERF) programs.
- Embedding housing interventions into the social safety net to meet the needs of families, seniors, and adults with disabilities.
- Reforming the behavioral health care system and expanding housing interventions through CalAIM’s transformation of Medi-Cal and the Behavioral Health Services Act.

This three-year Action Plan is more than a strategy—it is a shared commitment to ensure every Californian has access to safe, stable, and supportive housing.

As co-chairs of the California Interagency Council on Homelessness, we are proud to lead this effort, which builds on this Administration’s unprecedented investments and a renewed focus on equity, accountability, and collaboration. Over the next three years, this plan will drive measurable change by expanding housing, streamlining services, and centering the voices and needs of those who are most impacted by homelessness.

This effort demands bold leadership from each and every Councilmember. We must all strive to match the ambitious goals of this plan by steadfastly implementing innovative solutions and relentlessly focusing on data-driven outcomes. This three-year plan provides us with a clear roadmap to reduce inequities, strengthen local partnerships, and transform our systems.

We are inspired by the dedication of our partners, including local governments, federal agencies, community-based organizations, and individuals with lived experience. This collaborative spirit will be the key to our success as we align our efforts to make a lasting impact.

To our fellow Councilmembers: This is a defining moment. Let us lead with urgency, integrity, and unwavering commitment to the Californians who need us most. Together, we can and will create a future where homelessness is rare, brief and one-time.

Action Plan Overview

The California Interagency Council on Homelessness

The California Interagency Council on Homelessness (Cal ICH) is the State's facilitator, coordinator, and leader for policy development and research to support state and local jurisdictions in their work to prevent and end homelessness in California. Cal ICH convenes the state's Interagency Council on Homelessness (Council), a voting body comprised of leaders from 18 state departments and agencies as well as two members of the public appointed by the Legislature. Its work is guided by this Action Plan.

The first Action Plan was adopted by the Council in March 2021 and has been updated annually since. This new Plan focuses the Council's work around bold, measurable goals, the strategic investments that help achieve those goals, and the actions each member department and agency is taking to ensure those investments are effective and coordinated.

Action Plan Overview

CURRENT PROBLEM:

5 people served,
1 person housed

THREE-YEAR GOAL:

5 people served,
3 people housed

NORTH STAR:

5 people served,
5 people housed

Action Plan Overview

The Problem:

Currently, according to HDIS data, for every five individuals who access homelessness services in California, only one is housed each year, leaving four unhoused – a stark indicator of the gap in housing and services available for our neighbors experiencing homelessness.

The Vision:

Through the adoption of this Action Plan, the Council seeks to create an equitable and just California in which homelessness is rare, brief, and never more than a one-time experience. Our North Star is to have a housing placement available for every person experiencing homelessness who needs one.

The Plan:

The Plan's strategic and highly coordinated approach to preventing and ending homelessness is centered around our north star of having a housing placement for every person served. Over the next three years, the Action Plan's five ambitious goals seek to increase the portion of people with access to permanent housing, so that for every five people served, three are housed.

The Goals:

To accomplish this vision, the Council will be driven by five interconnected goals, which together create a comprehensive framework for understanding our progress. Over the course of this three-year Plan, our ultimate goal is to be able to house at least three out of every five people accessing homelessness services.

The Work:

In order to reach these goals, the Action Plan lays out strategic investments made and Actions taken by each Council member department and agency to prevent and end homelessness.

Using this Plan

This Action Plan is a three-year roadmap for addressing homelessness in California between 2025 and 2027. It is designed to serve as a tool the Council will use to organize and assess its investments, ensuring that efforts are strategic, measurable, and aligned with our shared vision of preventing and ending homelessness.

The Plan opens with the Council's Vision (page 12), ensuring alignment among Council departments and agencies toward a shared end goal. The Guiding Principles and Commitments (page 13) outline best practices critical to achieving this vision, which Council members have agreed to in the adoption of this plan. The five Action Plan Goals (page 23) set measurable targets to drive outcomes and assess progress toward our vision.

The Strategic Investments (page 31) represent state-funded or administered programs contributing to these goals, and the five Action Areas (page 45) detail additional work departments and agencies are taking on in order to enhance the state's homelessness response over the next three years. Each Action Area includes a Racial Equity Framework that can help guide the development and implementation of the state's work, ensuring it always centers equity. The Implementation Plan (page 91) outlines steps for executing the Action Plan, including annual performance measurement.

Finally, the appendices provide additional details on Cal ICH's work, the development of this Plan, and a glossary of acronyms.

By outlining its coordinated strategies and clear performance metrics, the Plan demonstrates the level of coordination and collaboration required to effectively address homelessness and provides insight into the state's efforts to do so. The Council also hopes this plan is utilized by local jurisdictions and external partners to ensure coordination in the work to prevent and end homelessness goes beyond state partners.

Action Plan Goals

GOAL 1

Help more people leave unsheltered homelessness

Increase the annual percentage of people who move into emergency shelter, transitional housing, or permanent housing after experiencing unsheltered homelessness, from 42% to at least 70%. Reduce overrepresentation of people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander among those experiencing unsheltered homelessness.

GOAL 2

Help more people move into housing

Increase the annual percentage of people experiencing homelessness who move into permanent housing from 18% to at least 60%. Ensure that people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander exit to permanent housing at rates sufficient to account for their overrepresentation among people experiencing homelessness.

GOAL 3

Ensure people do not experience homelessness again

Ensure that at least 95% of people who move into permanent housing do not experience homelessness within six months. Monitor return rates among people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander to determine what disparities must be addressed.

GOAL 4

Prevent more people from experiencing homelessness

Increase access to publicly-funded health and social safety net services for people at-risk of homelessness in order to address health and economic vulnerabilities.

GOAL 5

Create more housing

Permit more than 1.5 million homes, with no less than 710,000 of those meeting the needs of low- and very low-income households.

He is looking up and to the right with a hopeful expression. The man behind him is wearing a grey sweatshirt and glasses, also carrying a box. They are in a dimly lit hallway with a wooden door and a window with a stained glass pattern in the background.

Vision and Guiding Principles

Vision

Through the adoption of this Action Plan, the Council is embracing a simple but transformative vision:

An equitable and just California in which homelessness is rare, brief, and never more than a one-time experience.

In pursuing this vision, Cal ICH seeks to create a strong homelessness response system that:

- Equitably addresses the health, safety, and services needs of Californians experiencing unsheltered homelessness;
- Expands community capacity to provide safe and effective sheltering and interim housing;
- Expands and ensures equitable access to permanent housing in all communities; and
- Prevents Californians from experiencing homelessness.

Guiding Principles and Commitments

To ensure our work is centered around our shared vision of an equitable and just California in which homelessness is rare, brief, and never more than a one-time experience, the Council recognizes its member departments and agencies must commit to a set of eight guiding principles.

By adopting this Plan, member departments and agencies commit to following these guiding principles to the best of their abilities. Cal ICH staff also commit to developing resources and guidance for them to do so through our Lived Experience Advisory Board (LEAB), Advisory Committee, Interagency Working Groups, and more.

The Plan's guiding principles should deeply shape the design and implementation of the strategic investments and actions described later in this document. The Council further acknowledges that the current work identified may not be sufficient to fully achieve the Plan's vision and therefore encourages all future work on housing and homelessness to be aligned with the Plan's vision and guiding principles as well.

The following pages provide details on the guiding principles and the respective commitments that member departments and agencies have made through their adoption of this Plan.

Advancing Racial Equity and Justice

The vision for this Plan intentionally leads with equity and justice. Cal ICH recognizes that homelessness disproportionately affects communities identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander. The disproportionate negative impacts of involvement in the criminal legal system, lack of access to quality and affordable health care, housing discrimination, and the continued impact of redlining policies, along with a host of other socially determined factors, have had catastrophic impacts on these communities. These racial inequities have also been perpetuated by public policies that actively work to disadvantage these communities and therefore require urgent, innovative, and sustained actions to address, reduce, and eventually eliminate these disparities. Preventing and ending homelessness requires designing and implementing programs and services alongside these specific populations in order to effectively meet their needs, measure progress and outcomes towards reducing racial disparities, and provide staff with the tools and training they need to effectively implement equitable and inclusive homelessness programs. Cal ICH currently facilitates a Racial Equity Working Group designed to act as a resource for the Council in maintaining a dedicated focus on addressing racial inequities within its work to prevent and end homelessness (see Appendix B).

Through the adoption of this plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to ensuring racial equity is built into the design, implementation, and evaluation of all programs and funding, in order to address the racial inequities that we know exist in homelessness. Cal ICH will utilize its Racial Equity Working Group to provide resources and guidance to support state and local partners to center equity in its work.

Increasing Access to Resources for California's Tribal Communities

California is home to 109 Federally Recognized Tribes, with over 80 more petitioning for federal recognition. California Tribes face greater barriers and have fewer resources to address homelessness than local jurisdictions and are rarely considered in the development of local homelessness solutions. Further, Tribes experience severe disparities in homelessness compared to the general population and experience poorer outcomes in other areas such as poverty, unemployment, substance use disorders, and mental health challenges. This is the impact of colonization, a failure to meaningfully include and consider Tribes, and systemic and ongoing racism. Cal ICH has learned from Tribal engagements and consultation that state funding set asides designed for other jurisdictions are rarely accessible to Tribes due to their unique needs and varying levels of infrastructure. Cal ICH recognizes that to support Tribes to address homelessness in their communities, government must work to rebuild relationships with Tribes in culturally responsive ways.

Through the adoption of this plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to meaningfully partnering with Tribal communities across the state to better understand their needs and ensure that policies, programs, and funding are accessible and culturally responsive.

Creating Solutions for the Full Diversity of People Experiencing Homelessness

Preventing and ending homelessness requires creating a diversity of services to meet the needs of all people who experience homelessness. In addition to race and ethnicity, factors such as gender, sexuality, age, family structure, veteran status, disability, and more play a role in determining one's risk of experiencing homelessness. This requires a shift from one-size-fits-all approaches to targeted, goal-driven strategies that meet the needs of all people. Services should be accessible, flexible, and continuously adjusted to address emerging gaps in care. Assessments should be conducted regularly to identify the needs of these subgroups and ensure that existing services adequately address them.

Through the adoption of this plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to designing and funding programs that serve the wide diversity of needs that people have when experiencing homelessness as well as continuing to assess those programs to ensure they meet people's evolving needs.

Seeking, Valuing, and Acting Upon the Expertise of People with Lived Experiences of Homelessness

In order to create effective programs that meet people's diverse needs, our systems, programs, and decision-making must be deeply informed by people with lived experiences of homelessness. Incorporating people's lived experience into decision making goes beyond simple inclusion, as it must ensure that those with firsthand knowledge are actively developing and shaping solutions. While individuals with lived experience may not always represent the majority opinion, their perspectives are invaluable and should be prioritized, especially where funding decisions are made. Programs designed alongside people who have experienced homelessness can be more effective because they incorporate expertise on what does and does not work to prevent and end homelessness. When doing this work, people with lived experience must be appropriately compensated for their time. Cal ICH facilitates a Lived Experience Advisory Board that convenes regularly to review and provide feedback so that Council decisions and programs that will effectively work to achieve its vision (see Appendix B).

Through the adoption of this Plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to engaging with people with lived experiences of homelessness in the design and implementation of our programs, developing trusted relationships with these groups to receive ongoing feedback, and encouraging local partners and grantees to do the same. Cal ICH will utilize its LEAB to provide resources and guidance that support state and local partners to center the leadership of people with lived experiences of homelessness.

Strengthening Housing First Approaches

Housing First is an evidence-based model that uses housing as a tool, rather than a reward, for recovery and that centers on connecting people experiencing homelessness to permanent housing as quickly as possible. Housing First is not housing only: Housing First approaches offer services as needed and requested by participants. Housing is never contingent on participation in these services, but services are offered to support long-term success. Additionally, providers must make clear the full set of services available for participants, ensuring they are fully informed and empowered to make the best choices for their needs. It is crucial to acknowledge that while housing is a fundamental step, there are still significant gaps in providing individuals with the comprehensive, wraparound services—such as mental health support, job training, and substance use treatment—that are essential for maintaining long-term stability and preventing returns to homelessness. California has a legal commitment to implement all state homelessness and housing programs using a Housing First approach to remove barriers, ensure people have access to the housing and services necessary to support their success, and reduce returns to homelessness.

Through the adoption of this plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to incorporating the Housing First statutory requirements into their relevant programs and funding, as well as working with their grantees and local partners to ensure its proper implementation.

Balancing Prevention, Crisis Response, and Permanent Housing Solutions

While recognizing that permanent housing is the only true solution to homelessness, hundreds of thousands of Californians are experiencing the urgent crises of homelessness every single day. Therefore, preventing and ending homelessness requires the provision of housing and service options that can address the various stages of homelessness someone may experience. First and foremost, preventing homelessness whenever possible must be at the core of this work and is crucial to an effective homelessness response system. This includes identifying who is at risk of homelessness and providing them with housing, financial assistance, and other services that can help prevent their homelessness in the first place. Additionally, when people do fall into homelessness, they must have the option to move into shelter or other interim settings as quickly as possible to avoid the numerous health and safety risks associated with unsheltered homelessness. Finally, there must be adequate permanent housing options available for all people experiencing homelessness and their varying needs. For example, while some people do require the long-term placement and intensive services available in permanent supportive housing environments, others may benefit from limited-time rapid rehousing subsidies with fewer services.

Through the adoption of this plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to identifying the current balance of funding available for prevention, crisis response, and permanent housing solutions, and to assisting local governments in effectively building services that meet people's needs in each of these stages.

Advancing Trauma-Informed Care and Person-Centered Services

Experiences of homelessness can be caused by and/or lead to traumatic life events. Living without a safe and stable place to call home can create serious stress and amplify other health challenges that people are facing. As a result, mental health and substance use issues can be created or exacerbated by homelessness. In order to effectively address the needs of people experiencing homelessness without causing further harm, services must be trauma-informed and person-centered. Trauma-informed care acknowledges the need to understand a person's life experiences in order to deliver effective care and has the potential to improve engagement, treatment adherence, and health outcomes. Person-centered care refers to services that are responsive to individuals' goals, values, and preferences, empowering them to take an active role in their care. It is also essential to recognize that individuals with lived experiences of homelessness, including those hired as staff or in advisory positions, may still be affected by trauma. Organizations should ensure they have the proper resources in place to support these individuals. Service providers too must be equipped with trauma-informed training so that providers can recognize and respond to trauma, fostering a culture of healing for both those receiving and delivering services.

Through the adoption of this plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to requiring the use of trauma-informed and person-centered care throughout their programs as well as providing resources to their grantees to allow them to utilize those strategies effectively.

Aligning Health, Housing, and Homelessness Strategies

Cal ICH recognizes that housing and health are directly linked. Californians living without safe and stable housing face numerous mental and physical health risks that cannot be addressed without housing as a centerpiece of care. The State is implementing profound reforms within its Medi-Cal program and providing funding to ensure those most vulnerable people have equitable opportunities to access housing and improve their wellbeing.

Through the adoption of this plan, Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies commit to making crucial health resources available to all people experiencing homelessness as well as integrating such resources with housing and homelessness services.

Equity in the Action Plan

As Cal ICH departments and agencies work toward the shared vision of preventing and ending homelessness, it is critical that our collective strategies confront the growing racial inequities that disproportionately impact Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, and other communities of color. In order to reduce the number of individuals and families experiencing homelessness across California, including on Tribal lands, this Action Plan integrates racial equity frameworks into its design so that its implementation truly addresses the root causes of homelessness.

Racial equity frameworks, described within each Action Area, will be employed for successful implementation and achievement of the Action Plan's goals. These frameworks help ensure that our strategies are equitable and effective by:

- Collecting and analyzing data disaggregated by race and other demographics to identify disparities and target interventions more effectively;
- Involving historically disenfranchised communities overrepresented in homelessness in the planning and decision-making processes;
- Providing training and technical assistance for system partners and service providers on cultural humility, trauma-informed care, harm-reduction, de-escalation, and other models and practices to ensure they understand and respect the cultural backgrounds of the people they serve and offer culturally responsive services that build trust; and

- Increasing resources equitably by including by-us-for-us community-based organizations who have established trust with racially marginalized groups and Tribal Nations.

By integrating these racial equity frameworks into each Action Area, this Action Plan offers concrete approaches to more effectively address the complex and interconnected factors contributing to homelessness and increasing racial disparities.

If these racial equity frameworks are not supported and implemented effectively, Cal ICH acknowledges that the State's work could continue to perpetuate deep disparities by creating ineffective and harmful solutions, eroding trust from the unhoused community, misallocating resources that can unintentionally worsen homelessness, and growing public discontent that can damage the credibility and support for the work.

The Racial Equity Working Group will serve as an advisor and accountability partner; analyze and monitor data with a racial equity lens to refine the State's objectives and activities; engage with Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander communities to co-design effective interventions; transform statewide policies and programs; recommend funding strategies to more effectively address root causes; and launch the Racial Equity Implementation Hub to ensure that the Action Plan is equitable and effectively implemented.

Homelessness in California

Data Sources

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) requires each Continuum of Care (CoC) in the country to operate a Homeless Management Information System (HMIS), which is a local information technology system used to collect client-level data and data on the provision of housing and services to individuals and families at risk of and experiencing homelessness. California is the only state to have invested in a statewide data warehouse that compiles data from each CoC's HMIS. That data warehouse is the Homeless Data Integration System (HDIS).

California's HDIS provides information about service coordination throughout the state by identifying patterns of service usage across geographic regions and supporting efforts to identify and address racial and other inequalities among people experiencing homelessness. This information can be used to support technical assistance, planning, funding, and coordination decisions, but it is important to note HDIS cannot report on data that is not captured in HMIS.

Unless otherwise noted, all data on people experiencing homelessness or accessing homelessness services in this Plan come from HDIS and only contains the information captured in that database.

Overview of Homelessness in California

Homelessness remains a significant challenge in California, which accounts for about 24% of the homeless population in the United States. According to the 2024 Point-in-Time (PIT) Count, over 187,000 people experience homelessness in California on a given night, representing a 3% increase from 2023—a lower increase than seen nationally. Of these Californians experiencing homelessness, 66% are unsheltered (living in streets, parks, or vehicles), compared to about 36% nationally.

According to HDIS, the number of people who accessed homelessness services in 2023 was 340,000 people, nearly double the above Point-in-Time Count estimate for that year. This means that nearly 1 in every 100 Californians accessed homelessness services at some point in 2023.

Key Factors Contributing to Homelessness in California

Several interconnected factors drive homelessness in the state:

- Housing Affordability Crisis: California has some of the highest housing costs in the country, with the median home price exceeding $700,000 and rents averaging over $2,000 per month.
- Economic Inequality: Despite its wealth, the income inequality in California leaves many low-income households vulnerable to displacement.
- Systemic Barriers: Insufficient mental health services, substance use treatment, and support systems exacerbate homelessness.

- Natural Disasters and Climate Change: Events like wildfires and droughts have displaced thousands, pushing many into homelessness.

Disparities

The crisis of homelessness does not fall equally on all Californians. Homelessness data reflects stark racial inequities and the impacts of systemic racism. Compared to the overall population of California, those accessing homelessness services in 2023 were:

- Four times more likely to identify as Black or African American,
- Two times more likely to identify as Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, and
- Two times more likely to identify as American Indian or Indigenous.

For this reason, much of this Plan's discussion of racial disparities focuses on those three groups.

HOMELESSNESS IN CALIFORNIA

Additionally, of those accessing homelessness services:

- 13% were unaccompanied youth (aged 24 or younger),
- 49% reported having a disabling condition,
- 22% reported having experienced domestic violence,
- 7% identified as veterans, and
- 96% of people accessed homelessness services within one Continuum of Care.

According to the California Department of Education, over 210,000 students experienced homelessness during the 2023-24 school year. This differs from the HDIS data above because it utilizes a broader definition of homelessness as defined by the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Assistance Act. This definition includes children and youth who are doubled up in overcrowded housing or are living in hotels, motels, or other places not intended for long-term or permanent occupancy, in addition to other categories not included in the HUD definition of homelessness.

Data Limitations

What is less clear from the data are the experiences of people whose information does not get captured in local HMIS databases. HDIS includes data from programs that receive many types of state and federal funding, but does not include programs that primarily serve people who have experienced domestic violence, or providers affiliated with Tribal communities. The Council and its partners have identified some of these limitations in currently available data. Examples include:

- Those living in overcrowded housing situations, who are doubled-up, or are couch surfing, many of whom identify as Hispanic or Latinx, are Native American or Indigenous, or may be young adults. These groups may not access homelessness services for reasons including ineligibility, not being prioritized for services, or not self-identifying as needing homelessness services and are therefore likely underrepresented in this data.
- People experiencing unsheltered homelessness who are not in contact with any service providers through outreach or other situations.
- Communities who do not feel comfortable accessing government-funded services, such as those with a mistrust of state and local governments and publicly-funded services. Since HDIS tracks service utilization, these groups would not be reflected in the data.
- Data collection efforts do not reach all populations effectively. For example, Tribal communities in California report rates of homelessness up to 50%, however, there are no current methods of accurate data collection across Tribal communities. Tribal-affiliated service providers are not required to report data to HMIS and Tribal communities are rarely included in Point-in-Time counts. Therefore, data on homelessness in these communities is not accurately represented in HDIS.
- Within each of these demographic categories, there are important intersections with other demographics, such as age, LGBTQ+ identities, disability status, and/or family structure. For example, subpopulations that exist based on nationality or other factors within racial and ethnic groups, can experience homelessness at widely varying rates that are hidden when data is shown at a high level.

Why Data Matters in Addressing Homelessness

Data serves as a cornerstone for developing effective policies and interventions to address homelessness. Here's why:

1. Informed Decision-Making: Accurate data enables policymakers to identify the scale and demographics of homelessness, ensuring targeted and efficient allocation of resources.
2. Tracking Progress: Data helps monitor the impact of programs and strategies, allowing for adjustments and improvements based on evidence.
3. Tailored Interventions: Subpopulation-specific data (e.g., on youth, veterans, or families) helps design programs that address the unique needs of different groups.
4. Collaboration and Coordination: Data facilitates collaboration by creating a shared understanding of the issue.

In order to effectively address existing disparities, Council member departments and agencies must understand the current disparities and challenges to obtaining accurate data and commit to tailoring solutions to the needs of specific populations. With this in mind, this Plan, under Action Area #4, attempts to expand data integration across programs and systems, measure impacts, and conduct robust analyses on data to better understand homelessness in California.

In the following section, we discuss the Plan's goals, which are designed to show measurable progress toward preventing and ending homelessness in California, including the work to address racial disparities.

Action Plan Goals

In implementing this Plan, the Council aims to support local homelessness response systems to provide housing and services to everyone experiencing homelessness. This is the “north star” we will use to orient our work. Currently, according to HDIS data, for every five individuals who access homelessness services in California, only one is able to access permanent housing that year, leaving a gap of four people who continue to experience homelessness. Over the course of this Plan, calendar years 2025 through 2027, the Council aims to reduce that gap in half, so that for every five people served, three people are placed in housing during the year. While the goals outlined in this Plan are rooted in data, we recognize they do not capture the full scope and complexity of homelessness in California. These goals should be seen as an opportunity for the state to begin measuring its progress and to seek other information to help provide important nuance to this work.

In order to achieve these goals, the Plan focuses on addressing profound racial inequities and other disparities in risks and experiences of homelessness in California. For each goal, Cal ICH aims to reduce the overrepresentation of these populations among people experiencing homelessness, especially Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander communities. The Council recognizes that unique strategies may be needed to enable these different populations to reach these high-level goals. Therefore, for each goal, Cal ICH will disaggregate data by racial and ethnic group to understand inequities in access to services and housing that need to be addressed.

The following goals are intended to measure progress toward our north star of providing housing and services to everyone experiencing homelessness.

GOAL 1
Help more people leave unsheltered homelessness

Increase the annual percentage of people who move into emergency shelter, transitional housing, or permanent housing after experiencing unsheltered homelessness, from 42% to at least 70%. Reduce overrepresentation of people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander among those experiencing unsheltered homelessness.

GOAL 2
Help more people move into housing

Increase the annual percentage of people experiencing homelessness who move into permanent housing from 18% to at least 60%. Ensure that people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander exit to permanent housing at rates sufficient to account for their overrepresentation among people experiencing homelessness.

GOAL 3
Ensure people do not experience homelessness again

Ensure that at least 95% of people who move into permanent housing do not experience homelessness within six months. Monitor return rates among people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander to determine what disparities must be addressed.

GOAL 4
Prevent more people from experiencing homelessness

Increase access to publicly-funded health and social safety net services for people at-risk of homelessness in order to address health and economic vulnerabilities.

GOAL 5
Create more housing

Permit more than 1.5 million homes, with no less than 710,000 of those meeting the needs of low- and very low-income households.

ACTION PLAN GOALS

The following pages describe the goals in greater detail and include: a “north star” that represents the state’s longer-term targets for each goal, baseline data from calendar year 2023 and its source, additional measures Cal ICH will aim to consider when conducting annual performance measurement, and a brief methodology for how each goal is measured. It is important to note, goals #1, #2, and #3 use HDIS data, which only counts people who access services reported into local HMIS databases, as described above. Baseline data may change as data quality and completeness improves, and as Cal ICH improves its methodology for calculating these goals.

DEFINING OUR NORTH STARS:

For each goal, the Council has identified the north star that we are ultimately striving to achieve, which require longer than the 3-year timeframe of this Plan. The Council will use these north stars as guides to ensure we are moving closer and closer toward fully realizing the Plan’s vision of an equitable and just California in which homelessness is rare, brief, and never more than a one-time experience. Each goal in this Plan is designed to get us half-way to achieving the identified north stars in the next three years.

GOAL 1 : Help more people leave unsheltered homelessness

Three Year Goal: 70%

Increase the annual percentage of people who move into emergency shelter, transitional housing, or permanent housing after experiencing unsheltered homelessness, from 42% to at least 70%. Reduce overrepresentation of people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander among those experiencing unsheltered homelessness.

North Star: 100%

Ensure everyone experiencing unsheltered homelessness enters into emergency shelter, interim housing, or permanent housing (100%).

Baseline Data: 42% (98,095)

of people who were experiencing unsheltered homelessness moved into shelter or housing.

SOURCE: HDIS (CY 2023)

Additional potential measurements:

- Increase the number and share of successful placements from street outreach.
- Monitor and address any disparities in shelter or housing placements among people with substance use disorders, serious mental illness, and other disabling conditions.
- Reduce the amount of time people experience unsheltered homelessness while receiving services, prior to entering a sheltered setting.
- Improve shelter/housing access for unaccompanied minors experiencing unsheltered homelessness.
- Increase the number of people who leave unsheltered homelessness from state-funded programs.
- Ensure people who are served by the Encampment Resolution Funding Program, and other programs specifically focused on addressing unsheltered homelessness, enter a sheltered setting.
- Monitor racial and ethnic disparities in exits to permanent housing, homelessness, and unknown destinations among people served by the Encampment Resolution Funding Program.

Methodology:

The number of people who leave unsheltered homelessness, as reported in HDIS, includes all people who access emergency shelter, transitional housing, or permanent housing who either accessed services earlier in the year while experiencing unsheltered homelessness, or who reported living in unsheltered conditions immediately prior to entering emergency shelter, transitional housing, or permanent housing. The percentage is calculated by dividing the number of people who leave unsheltered homelessness by the total number of people who access services while experiencing unsheltered homelessness during the year, plus the total number of people who report living in unsheltered conditions immediately before entering emergency shelter, transitional housing, permanent housing during the year.

GOAL 2 : Help more people move into housing

Three Year Goal: 60%

Increase the annual percentage of people experiencing homelessness who move into permanent housing from 18% to at least 60%. Ensure that people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander exit to permanent housing at rates sufficient to address their overrepresentation among people experiencing homelessness.

North Star: 100%

Ensure everyone accessing homelessness services moves into permanent housing (100%).

Baseline Data: 18% (63,512)

of people served exited homelessness and moved into permanent housing.

SOURCE: HDIS (CY 2023)

Additional potential measurements:

- Increase the total number of people moved into permanent housing each year.
- Reduce the amount of time people experience homelessness while accessing services, prior to entering permanent housing.
- Monitor and address any disparities in housing placements among people with substance use disorders, serious mental illness, and other medical needs/disabling conditions.
- Monitor the share of people exiting who receive subsidized housing.
- Increase the percentage of people who exit from emergency shelter to transitional housing or permanent destinations.
- Reducing the number of people who become chronically homeless.
- Increasing the number of unaccompanied minors and unaccompanied youth who exit to permanent destinations.
- Increase the number of people served by and exiting homelessness to permanent housing from projects funded by state programs.

Methodology:

The number of people who move into housing, as reported in HDIS, includes people who access services while experiencing homelessness and then move into permanent housing during the same year. This includes permanent housing inside the homelessness response system (such as permanent supportive housing) as well as both subsidized and unsubsidized housing outside the system.

GOAL 3 : Ensure people do not experience homelessness again

Three Year Goal: 95%

Ensure that at least 95% of people who move into permanent housing do not experience homelessness within six months. Monitor return rates among people who identify as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander to determine what disparities must be addressed.

North Star: 100%

Ensure all people who move into permanent housing do not experience homelessness again within 6 months (100%).

Baseline Data: 89%

of people who exited homelessness and moved into permanent housing did not return to experiencing homelessness in 6 months.

SOURCE: HDIS (CY 2023)

Additional potential measurements:

- Reduce returns to homelessness across longer timeframes (e.g. within 1 and 2 years of exiting to permanent housing).
- Monitor and address any disparities in returns to homelessness among people with substance use disorders, serious mental illness, and other disabling conditions.
- Reduce the percentage of people who exit into homelessness from permanent supportive housing and rapid rehousing projects.
- Monitor returns from subsidized housing and unsubsidized housing.

Methodology:

The percentage of people who do not return to homelessness, as reported in HDIS, represents the share of those who exit from the homelessness response system during the first six months of the year, and do not return to accessing services while experiencing homelessness within six months of their exit.

GOAL 4 : Prevent more people from experiencing homelessness

Three Year Goal: To be determined

Increase access to publicly-funded health and social safety net services for people at-risk of homelessness in order to address health and economic vulnerabilities.

North Star: 100%

Ensure everyone at-risk of experiencing homelessness who is eligible for publicly-funded health and social safety net services (such as Medi-Cal, CalWORKs, SSI, and others) have access to them.

Baseline Data (CY 2023):

Not yet available.

Additional potential measurements:

- Rates of access to publicly-funded health and social safety net services for people currently experiencing homelessness.
- Monitor and address any disparities in enrollment and receipt of benefits among people with substance use disorders, serious mental illness, and other disabling conditions.
- Monitor and address any geographic disparities in enrollment and receipt of benefits.
- Analyze service use data among people enrolled in Medi-Cal to assess provision of treatment to people with medical needs.
- Monitor improvements in access to benefits among people accessing services.
- Monitor equity in access to homelessness prevention and social services through the homelessness response system.
- Monitor utilization of primary and/or preventative care among people experiencing homelessness.
- Monitor other indicators of homelessness prevention, such as graduation rates among students, and reduce racial and ethnic disparities in these rates.
- Monitor and reduce the instance of people experiencing homelessness after exiting state institutional settings, including but not limited to, state prisons and foster care.

Methodology:

CalHHS and Cal ICH are launching a homelessness data integration project to determine the methodology for measuring this goal in 2025. Once this project is completed, Cal ICH will provide baseline data and set a numeric goal for the remaining duration of this Action Plan. Cal ICH will also explore data sharing agreements with other Council member departments and agencies, including CDCR, to support the measurement of this goal.

GOAL 5 : Create more housing

Three Year Goal: More permits

Permit more than 1.5 million homes, with no less than 710,000 of those meeting the needs of low- and very low-income households.

North Star: 100%

Permit 2.5 million homes by 2030, with no less than 1 million of those for low- and very low-income households, as outlined in California's Statewide Housing Plan and in alignment with the statewide housing goal.

Baseline Data: 890,000 units have been permitted since 2018, 126,000 of those being low- and very low-income units.

SOURCE: HOUSING ELEMENTS ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT DASHBOARD (CY 2023)

Additional potential measurements:

- Disaggregate progress towards state permitting goals by affordability level, including for extremely low and acutely low-income households.
- Monitor the share of jurisdictions that reach their low-income permitting goals; the share that reach their very low-income permitting goals; and the share that reach their overall permitting goals.
- Monitor the number of units built by affordability level.
- Monitor number of units reserved for special populations.
- Monitor the number of tax credit-subsidized units constructed or rehabilitated that are affordable for low-income households, including units for large families and for seniors.

Methodology:

The number of units permitted and built is reported by jurisdictions in their annual progress report-to-date through the 6th Cycle Regional Housing Needs Assessment as of October 2024, and aggregated by the California Department of Housing and Community Development. The baseline number of units were permitted between 2018 and 2023. Units are determined to meet the needs of low- and very low-income households if they are affordable to households whose incomes do not exceed qualifying limits.

Strategic Investments

In working toward the Action Plan's bold vision, Council member departments and agencies are responsible for implementing a set of strategic investments that contribute to one or more of the goals set by this Plan. These include investments from the State general fund or federal passthrough dollars that the State administers. They do not include federal or private dollars not administered by the state (i.e. Emergency Housing Vouchers, Housing Choice Vouchers, public housing, etc.) Investments listed are current at the time of this Plan's adoption (December 2024) but may be impacted by future state and federal budget decisions. Should a strategic investment be impacted or discontinued due to state or federal funding, it will be noted in the appropriate annual update. These investments seek to contribute to our goals by:

- Expanding the supply of permanent, affordable, and supportive housing units for people at-risk and experiencing homelessness.
- Providing rental subsidies and other financial assistance to support more people to move into permanent housing.
- Increasing shelter and interim housing options available in communities to reduce unsheltered homelessness.
- Supporting expanded diversion and prevention services so that people do not become homeless.
- Creating stronger connections to physical and behavioral health care services to support people to thrive.
- Providing access to an array of supportive services that foster housing stability, connect people to benefits, and/or help people to secure employment and achieve their goals.

STRATEGIC INVESTMENTS

Below is a table that lists the state-funded or administered investments that contribute directly to one or more of the Action Plan's goals. Alongside each investment, the table includes marks that identify which Plan goals that investment contributes to. In order to help the Council understand what impact its investments are having on each goal, future performance measurement will focus on identifying the collective outcomes of the Council's work as follows:

Year 1 (January – December 2025): Council departments and agencies begin to collect data on the outcomes associated with each goal for their respective strategic investments.

Year 2 (January – December 2026): Cal ICH reports out on collective progress made toward each Plan goal during Year 1. Begin to identify successes and challenges involved in this work.

Year 3 (January – December 2027): Cal ICH reports out on collective progress made toward each Plan goal during Year 2. Shares recommendations with Council on additional policies, programs, areas of focus, etc. needed to meet goals and lessons learned from implementation.

EQUITY FRAMEWORK FOR ACTION AREA 1

Equity-Based Decision Making (Policy and Funding Interventions)

The Equity-Based Decision Making framework emphasizes making decisions that actively address the disparities faced by historically marginalized communities and focuses on removing systemic barriers and ensuring everyone has fair access to opportunities and resources, leading to more just and inclusive outcomes.

In implementing Actions to increase access to housing and services, Council member departments and agencies are committed to embracing policies and practices that are aligned with this framework, including:

- Setting Racial Equity Goals: Describe strategies to explicitly address racial inequities. Ask: What current inequities exist and what are your strategies to address them?

- Maximizing Benefit and Minimizing Harm: Outline how the strategies will maximize benefit and minimize harm to those with lived experience and overrepresented communities such as those identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander.
- Clarity and Accessibility: Outline how decision-making processes will be clear, transparent, and accessible. Identify how assumptions, outcomes, and data will be shared with partners, particularly those with lived experience, and communities identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander.

EQUITY
FRAMEWORK
FOR ACTION
AREA 1

- Community Engagement: Detail how policy and funding will ensure communities disproportionately impacted by homelessness are involved in decision-making. Ask: How will feedback loops be incorporated? How will you ensure that people with lived experience inform the process?
- Data and Analysis: Explain how data will inform decision-making, with an emphasis on race and other marginalized identities. Ask: How will qualitative and quantitative data be used to ensure equity?
- Implementation and Accountability: Outline how accountability will be maintained. Ask: What mechanisms will be in place to evaluate the success of the tool? How are we being accountable to communities identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander?
- Communication: Identify how shifts in strategy, funding, and priorities will be communicated to partners, particularly those most impacted. Ask: Who are the key partners, and how will you ensure they remain informed? How will transparency be maintained?

Collective Impact 3.0 for Racial Equity & Social Justice (Systems Alignment)

The Collective Impact Model framework recognizes the complex nature of social issues and creates a structured form of collaboration in which a network of key partners works to advance learning, aligning, and integrating actions to create system-level change and impact. It involves identifying a common agenda, creating shared measurements, mutually reinforcing activities, and engaging in continuous communication. Collective Impact 3.0 is an updated approach to tackling complex social issues by integrating a racial equity and social justice lens that includes community members most impacted as essential partners central to co-designing solutions.

In implementing Actions to coordinate and streamline state programs, Council member departments and agencies are committed to embracing policies and practices that are aligned with this framework, including:

- Grounding the Work in Data and Context: Use disaggregated data to address disparities. Ask: How are we ensuring that disaggregated data is consistently collected and analyzed to inform decisions? What strategies can we use to identify and address disparities in our community through the data we gather?
- Focusing on Systems Change: Focus structural, relational, and transformative changes to achieve equity. Ask: What specific policies or structures need to shift to achieve more equitable outcomes? How can we align our collective work to address both short-term needs and long-term systemic changes?
- Shifting Power within Decision-Making: Ensure marginalized communities have a voice in decision-making. Ask: What mechanisms are in place to ensure marginalized communities have a meaningful voice in decision-making? How can we assess and adjust the power dynamics within our decision-making to center equity more effectively?
- Listening to and Acting with the Community: Engage with those most affected by inequities, in particular those with lived experience, and communities identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander. Ask: How can we ensure community members most affected by inequities are actively involved in shaping our strategies? What processes do we have in place to continually gather and act on feedback from marginalized communities?
- Building Equity Leadership and Accountability: Develop diverse leadership that includes those with lived experience, and communities identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, and hold collaborators accountable to equity goals. Ask: How are we building diverse leadership within our collaborative, and what support do they need to succeed? What accountability measures can we implement to ensure that our equity goals are met and adapted over time?

ACTION AREA 3

Engaging Partners & Communities

Actions in this Action Area focus on actively engaging with local communities, Tribal partners, people with lived experiences of homelessness, housing and service provider organizations, and other partners, to seek feedback and guidance.

These actions drive progress toward the following Objectives:

Objective A

Seeking and Following the Guidance of People with Lived Experience

Objective C

Collaboratively Communicating and Planning with Partners

Objective B

Engaging and Partnering with Communities Disproportionately Impacted by Homelessness

Cal ICH Statutory Obligations

Through implementing the Activities and pursuing the Objectives in Action Area 3, Cal ICH will make progress on its statutory obligations to:

- To serve as a statewide facilitator, coordinator, and policy development resource on ending homelessness in California. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(9)
- To increase system integration and coordinating efforts to prevent homelessness among youth who are currently or formerly involved in the child welfare system or the juvenile justice system. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(16)

EQUITY FRAMEWORK FOR ACTION AREA 3

Equity-Centered Community Design (Partner Engagement)

The Equity-Centered Community Design framework prioritizes the voices and experiences of marginalized communities in the partner engagement process. It ensures that those who are most impacted by decisions are leading and shaping the solutions, with a focus on dismantling systemic inequities. This approach fosters more inclusive, sustainable outcomes by addressing root causes rather than just symptoms.

In implementing Actions to engage partners and communities, Council member departments and agencies are committed to embracing policies and practices that are aligned with this framework, including:

- Designing With, Not For: Prioritize co-design with marginalized communities, ensuring their lived experiences drive solutions. Ask: How are we ensuring that community members most impacted by inequity are designing solutions alongside us? What structures are in place to make sure their input directly influences decision-making?
- Addressing Root Causes of Inequity: Focus on systemic barriers rather than surface-level issues. Ask: What systemic barriers are we targeting, and how are we addressing the underlying causes of those issues? How do we ensure our solutions challenge long-standing inequities rather than just treating symptoms?
- Acknowledging Power Dynamics: Actively recognize and shift power imbalances within design processes of partner and community engagement. Ask: What power dynamics exist in our team or process, and how are we actively shifting them to center marginalized voices? How are we redistributing decision-making authority to those impacted by the issues?

EQUITY
FRAMEWORK
FOR ACTION
AREA 3

- Iterative learning: Continuously learn and adapt designs based on feedback from impacted communities. Ask: How can we establish feedback loops with the community to continuously improve our approach? What mechanisms do we have for adapting designs based on real-time input from affected populations?
- Radical inclusion: Ensure marginalized voices are central to the process and outcomes. Ask: How are we ensuring that the most marginalized voices are being heard and valued throughout our partner and community engagement process? What specific steps are we taking to remove barriers to participation for historically excluded groups?

ACTION AREA 4

Using Data Strategically

Actions in this Action Area focus on expanding and refining data analysis and data-sharing efforts at the state and local levels to deepen the state's understanding of homelessness in California and strengthen the implementation of State and local programs.

These actions drive progress toward the following Objectives:

Objective A

Expanding Integration of Data
Across Programs and Systems

Objective C

Performing Analyses to Drive
Future Decision-Making

Objective B

Measuring Impact and Outcomes of State Strategies and Programs

Cal ICH Statutory Obligations

Through implementing the Activities and pursuing the Objectives in Action Area 4, Cal ICH will make progress on its statutory obligations to:

- Implement Housing First by ensuring all state programs identified in statute incorporate Housing First Core Components. Welf & Inst. Code § 8255 - 8256
- Identify mainstream resources, benefits, and services that can be accessed to prevent and end homelessness in California. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(2)
- To report to the Governor, federal Cabinet members, and the Legislature on homelessness and work to reduce homelessness. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(10)
- To ensure accountability and results in meeting the strategies and goals of the council. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(11)
- To identify and implement strategies to fight homelessness in small communities and rural areas. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(12)
- To create a statewide data system or warehouse, which shall be known as the Homeless Data Integration System, that collects local data through Homeless Management Information Systems, with the ultimate goal of matching data on homelessness to programs impacting homeless recipients of state programs. Upon creation of the Homeless Data Integration System, all continuums of care, as defined in Section 578.3 of Title 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations, that are operating in California shall provide collected data elements, including, but not limited to, health information, in a manner consistent with federal law, to the Homeless Data Integration System. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(13)
- To set goals to prevent and end homelessness among California's youth. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(14)
- To improve the safety, health, and welfare of young people experiencing homelessness in the state. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(15)
- To lead efforts to coordinate a spectrum of funding, policy, and practice efforts related to young people experiencing homelessness. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(17)
- To collect, compile, and make available to the public financial data provided to the council from all state-funded homelessness programs. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(19)

Targeted Universalism (Programmatic Interventions)

The Targeted Universalism framework sets universal goals for everyone while recognizing that different groups may need unique strategies to achieve those goals. It acknowledges that people start from different places due to systemic inequities and focuses on tailored solutions to ensure that everyone, including marginalized communities, can reach the same positive outcomes.

In implementing actions to use data strategically, Council member departments and agencies are committed to embracing policies and practices aligned with this framework, including:

- Setting a Universal Goal: Establish a goal that benefits everyone, focusing on shared outcomes for all communities. Ask: What is the broad, universal outcome we are aiming to achieve for everyone? How are we ensuring the goal reflects the needs of all community members, including the most marginalized?
- Identifying Specific Barriers: Analyze and identify the distinct barriers faced by marginalized groups in achieving the universal goal. Ask: Which specific communities or groups are most disproportionately impacted by the issue? How are we using data to identify and understand the unique barriers faced by these groups?
- Developing Targeted Strategies: Create solutions tailored to address the specific challenges of each group while working toward the universal goal. Ask: What tailored strategies are we developing to meet the needs of specific groups who face unique barriers? How do we ensure these strategies are informed by the lived experiences of the affected communities?
- Aligning with Broader Goals: Ensure that targeted interventions support the overall objective of equity for all. Ask: How do we ensure that the targeted strategies we are implementing align with and contribute to our universal goal? How do we measure progress in both achieving the universal goal and addressing group-specific needs?
- Measuring Group Outcomes: Track and evaluate progress for each group to adjust strategies as needed. Ask: What mechanisms are in place to track and evaluate outcomes for different demographic groups? How are we using outcome data to refine or adjust strategies for specific groups when progress is not being made?

ACTION AREA 5

Advancing Best Practices & Quality

Actions in this Action Area focus on providing tools, guidance, training, and technical assistance to state and local partners, highlighting innovative and effective work to help ensure the quality of state-funded programs and services and to support housing and services providers in implementing best practices within their programs.

These actions drive progress toward the following Objectives:

Objective A

Advancing Housing First and Other Best Practices within Program Implementation

Objective B

Effectively Reaching Historically Marginalized Communities

Objective C

Exploring New Models and Innovations

Cal ICH Statutory Obligations

Through implementing the Activities and pursuing the Objectives in Action Area 5, Cal ICH will make progress on its statutory obligations to:

- Implement Housing First by ensuring all state programs identified in statute incorporate Housing First Core Components. Welf & Inst. Code § 8255 - 8256
- Serve as the statewide facilitator, coordinator, and policy development resource on preventing and ending homelessness in California. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(9)
- To report to the Governor, federal cabinet members, and the Legislature on homelessness. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(10)
- To identify and implement strategies to fight homelessness in small communities and rural area. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(12)
- To set goals to prevent and end homelessness among California's youth. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(14)
- To improve the safety, health, and welfare of young people experiencing homelessness in the state. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(15)
- To lead efforts to coordinate a spectrum of funding, policy, and practice efforts related to young people experiencing homelessness. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(17)
- To identify best practices to ensure homeless minors who may have experienced maltreatment, as described in Section 300, are appropriately referred to, or have the ability to self-refer to, the child welfare system. Welf & Inst. Code § 8257 (b)(18)

Continuous Quality Improvement (Person-Centered Input Processes)

The Continuous Quality Improvement framework helps organizations test and refine changes before fully implementing them. It involves planning a change, trying it on a small scale, studying the results, and acting on what is learned to make adjustments. This cycle promotes ongoing learning and improvement to achieve better outcomes over time.

In implementing Actions to advance best practices and quality, Council member departments and agencies are committed to embracing policies and practices that are aligned with this framework, including:

- Planning: Identify racial inequities and set specific equity goals using data and community input. Ask: How are we using data to identify racial disparities, and what specific equity goals have we set? How are marginalized communities involved in the planning process to ensure their needs are addressed, particularly those with lived experience, and communities identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, and Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander?
- Doing: Implement equity-focused interventions with a focus on marginalized groups. Ask: What steps are we taking to implement targeted interventions for marginalized groups? How are we ensuring our actions directly address the specific barriers faced by these communities?
- Studying: Analyze data and feedback to assess the effectiveness of interventions in addressing racial disparities. Ask: What metrics or indicators are we using to assess the impact of our interventions on racial disparities? How are we gathering feedback from the affected communities to evaluate the effectiveness of our efforts?
- Acting: Refine strategies based on findings, scaling successful approaches, and making necessary adjustments to improve racial equity outcomes. Ask: Based on the data and feedback, what adjustments do we need to make to improve equity outcomes? How will we scale successful interventions to reach more communities and increase their impact?

Implementation Plan

This section summarizes activities Cal ICH and Council member departments and agencies will take to implement the Action Plan over its three-year timeframe. Upon adoption of this Plan, Cal ICH staff will build out a more detailed implementation plan to ensure its effective and long-term impact through activities that will focus on:

- Regular and Transparent Performance Measurement
- Analyzing and Addressing Inequities
- Coordination Across Council Departments and Agencies
- Collaboration with External Partners
- Public Education and Awareness
- Refining the Plan for the Future

Regular and Transparent Performance Measurement

- Cal ICH and CalHHS staff will work together to develop a methodology to measure Goal 4, identify the baseline data from calendar year 2023, and build out a numeric goal to be included in a future update to the Plan.
- To understand the progress made in the pursuit of the Action Plan's vision, Cal ICH staff will provide annual reports on outcomes related to each of the Plan's five goals.
- Cal ICH staff will assess the Council's progress through its goals as well as possible supplementary measures relevant to each goal. This includes disaggregating the goal data by race and other demographic factors to understand how inequities are being addressed within the state's efforts.
- Council departments and agencies will work with Cal ICH to ensure that they and their grantees are providing data on the metrics necessary for measuring the impact of each of their strategic investments on the achievement of this Plan's goals.
- The Cal ICH Racial Equity Working Group will also report on the use of the Plan's racial equity frameworks and the progress made through their implementation across state programs. These reports will be made public and enable the Council and other key partners to make data-informed decisions about how to meet our vision to prevent and end homelessness.

Analyzing and Addressing Inequities

- Council member departments and agencies will ensure their programs are designed and implemented to address inequities.

- To support those efforts, the Cal ICH Racial Equity Working Group has identified Racial Equity Frameworks that are paired with each Action Area. This Working Group will provide technical assistance to Council departments and agencies in using these frameworks to ensure that equity is embedded across all elements of the implementation of this Plan.
- Similarly, the Cal ICH LEAB will continue to offer guidance and advice to Council partners in order to provide the perspectives of people who have or are currently experiencing homelessness in the early stages of their program design.

Coordination Across Council Departments and Agencies

- Cal ICH staff have developed and will continue to implement methods for regular collaboration with partners at each of our Council member departments and agencies.
- In order to ensure the commitments in the Action Plan are met, Cal ICH staff will use these close partnerships to follow up on successes achieved and challenges faced in the implementation of the Plan's actions, and help address those challenges whenever possible.
- Cal ICH staff will connect departments and agencies doing overlapping or parallel work in order to strengthen coordination and impact.
- The Council will utilize time at its meetings for updates on Action Plan implementation and information or training related to the work identified in the Plan.

Collaboration with External Partners

- The Council intends for this Action Plan to also be used as a roadmap for preventing and ending homelessness by other policy makers, funders, planners, and leaders across the state. The publication of this plan can encourage our partners in these sectors to understand how they can contribute to supporting the state in meeting its vision and goals.
- Cal ICH staff will act as cross-system facilitators in connecting local leaders and partners so that they can work more effectively together.
- Council member departments and agencies will reach out to the State Legislature, state-level advocacy partners, as well as local and Tribal jurisdictions to provide them with detailed information about how the Plan can be useful in their ongoing homelessness efforts.

Public Education and Awareness

- Cal ICH and its member departments and agencies will communicate broadly about the publication of the new Action Plan.
- Council member departments and agencies will use newsletters, social media, and other regular forums to discuss the key elements of the new Plan. State staff will also attend relevant conferences and speaking engagements to share this information and get feedback from partners on how to most effectively achieve the vision and goals of this plan.
- Member departments and agencies will follow up with local partner groups and grantees to ensure they are informed of the work committed to in the Plan.

- Additionally, Cal ICH staff will ensure the accessibility and utility of this Plan's information by publishing it on the Cal ICH website in a format that allows members of the public to filter for the information relevant to their interests. Examples may include:
 - » A data dashboard for the Plan goals that allows users to disaggregate baseline data by various demographic factors or locations.
 - » A strategic funding guide that provides supplementary information about investments such as the populations they serve and their eligible uses.
 - » A database of all plan actions that can be sorted by specific departments or agencies or what subpopulations they are geared toward.

Refining the Plan for the Future

- During the third year of Plan implementation, the Council will conduct a comprehensive review of progress and performance. The review will inform planning processes to develop an updated or new plan to continue strengthening and advancing the state's efforts to prevent and end homelessness.

The California Interagency Council on Homelessness

History and Mission

The California Interagency Council on Homelessness (Cal ICH) was created by SB 1380 (Mitchell, Chapter 847, Statutes of 2016) in 2017 as the Homeless Coordinating and Financing Council to oversee the implementation of Housing First policies, guidelines, and regulations aimed at reducing duration of homelessness in California.

In 2021, Governor Newsom signed AB 1220 (L. Rivas, Chapter 398, Statutes of 2021) into law, which renamed and restructured the Council to continue California's forward momentum toward the state's broader vision for enhanced statewide leadership and coordination in its response to the homelessness crisis. As the state's leading entity to addressing homelessness, the Council's mission is to develop policies and identify resources, benefits, and services to prevent and work toward ending homelessness in California.

Roles and Statutory Goals

Activities identified within this Action Plan are designed to fulfill Cal ICH's role in coordinating state efforts to prevent and end homelessness in California and to achieve 19 statutory goals, including five youth-related goals identified through SB 918 (Wiener, Chapter 841, Statutes of 2018). These statutory goals are pursued through both the Interagency Council and a team of Cal ICH staff within the Business, Consumer Services and Housing Agency.

The Council

The Council, co-chaired by the Secretary of the Business, Consumer Services and Housing Agency (BCSH) and the Secretary of the Health and Human Services Agency (CalHHS), is comprised of 18 leaders from State departments and agencies, one community leader appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, and one community leader appointed by the Senate Rules Committee.

The Council meets quarterly and guides and directs the implementation of this Action Plan. Council members are responsible for mobilizing actions and accountability across their departments and agencies in support of the Action Plan's implementation.

Cal ICH staff

The team of staff at Cal ICH is responsible for monitoring the implementation of this Action Plan and for working with senior staff across Council member departments and agencies to ensure that the Activities committed to in this Plan are implemented and well-coordinated; and reports to the Council on the progress of the Plan's implementation and its achievement of the Plan's five goals.

Additionally, the team of Cal ICH staff oversee and implement:

- The development and ongoing management of the Homeless Data Integration System (HDIS) and provide analyses and assessment activities,

APPENDIX A

- Coordination of Interagency Council activities across Council departments and agencies to ensure alignment with policy priorities and best practices.
- Partnerships with CoCs, Federal agencies, city and county governments, non-profits, housing and services providers, and other stakeholders to advance shared and coordinated work to improve State-funded services and programs.

Cal ICH staff also work in consultation with the Governor's Office and with the Legislature as subject-matter policy experts to guide and strengthen the state's response to homelessness.

Appendix B: Advisory and Implementation Groups to Drive Progress

The implementation of this Action Plan will be supported through additional advisory and implementation groups convened by Cal ICH. Each of these groups works in coordination with each other and are crucial in guiding and assessing the implementation of the Action Plan.

Lived Experience Advisory Board

Cal ICH formed a Lived Experience Advisory Board (LEAB) to inform a broad range of work conducted by Cal ICH and other department staff. In some instances, the LEAB may help inform the Council on its priorities and actions. One of Cal ICH's guiding principles is to ensure decisions are deeply informed and guided by people with lived experiences of homelessness. This ensures that systems, programs, and policies are influenced by those with firsthand knowledge of homelessness systems. By collaborating with policymakers and service providers, LEAB members help identify both challenges and effective solutions within the homelessness response system.

The LEAB is comprised of members representing diverse populations including race, ethnicity, gender, age, and other demographic characteristics representative of the diverse populations of individuals experiencing homelessness in California. Members began onboarding and held their first meeting in Fall 2023. Members meet monthly and receive reimbursement for their participation.

LEAB members meet with staff from Cal ICH and other Council departments and agencies to provide thought partnership on a variety of policies and programs. They serve as a resource for questions from Council partners on policy design and implementation as well as move forward with their own priorities that guide their work and advocacy efforts. Priorities are regularly identified by LEAB members, and Cal ICH staff help identify projects for them to take on within those priorities. Their 2023 priorities are as follows:

1. Work to End Criminalization of People Experiencing Homelessness: Advocate against laws and practices that penalize individuals experiencing homelessness.
 2. Promote a Focus on Prevention: Emphasize strategies that prevent homelessness before it occurs.
 3. Advocate for More Affordable, Permanent, Supportive, and Sustainable Housing: Push for increased availability of long-term, affordable housing options with supportive services.
 4. Center Lived Experience/Expertise in Decision Making: Ensure that individuals with lived experience are integral to the decision-making processes at all levels.
- The LEAB's priorities serve to highlight the issues members view as most urgent for the Council and other system leaders to address, guide the LEAB in accepting project requests that align with their priorities, and develop LEAB-driven initiatives. The Cal ICH LEAB Members webpage contains an updated list of member photos and biographical statements.

Advisory Committee

The work of the Council is bolstered by the formation of an Advisory Committee, which helps advise the Council to ensure its work is effective and well-informed by experts on homelessness across a variety of sectors. AB 1220 (L. Rivas, Chapter 398, Statutes of 2021), modified by SB 1421 (Jones, Chapter 671, Statutes of 2022), called for the creation of an Advisory Committee as follows:

The Council shall regularly seek guidance from and, at least twice a year, meet with an Advisory Committee. The Co-Chairs of the Council shall appoint members to this Advisory Committee, ensuring it reflects racial and gender diversity, and shall include the following:

- A survivor of gender-based violence who formerly experienced homelessness.
- Representatives of local agencies or organizations that participate in the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development’s Continuum of Care Program.
- Partners with expertise in solutions to homelessness and best practices from other states.
- Representatives of committees on African Americans, youth, and survivors of gender-based violence.
- A current or formerly homeless person who lives in California.
- A current or formerly homeless youth who lives in California.
- A current or formerly homeless person with a developmental disability.

The Advisory Committee meets quarterly and provides guidance and feedback on topics to be discussed by the Council. The Committee’s feedback and recommendations are brought to the Council for consideration, with Cal ICH staff helping identify strategies the Council and its partners can use to move recommendations forward.

The Cal ICH Co-Chairs have appointed members to this committee with a diverse set of expertise on policies related to homelessness, including lived experience. The Cal ICH Advisory Committee Members webpage contains an updated list of member photos and biographical statements.

Interagency Working Groups

The original Action Plan, adopted in March 2021, identified the need for interagency Working Groups to provide recommendations to the Council on how to address specific issues related to homelessness. These Working Groups bring together staff from a variety of Council departments and agencies, alongside community members with relevant knowledge, to dig into the Council’s priority areas and identify ways the Council can make progress on these priorities. Each Working Group is aligned with priorities identified by stakeholders and partners during the development of the Action Plan. Some may be time-limited, while others may be sustained for longer terms or on an ongoing basis.

The Working Groups develop priorities, implementation plans, and measures to assess the implementation and impact of their efforts. Working Groups regularly report on their efforts and progress through the quarterly Council meetings. Each Working Group is charged with addressing racial inequities and with tailoring solutions and strategies for different populations of people experiencing homelessness. Working Group membership is designed to include a diverse set of expertise on the specific topic to be addressed.

Listed below are the Working Groups that Cal ICH has convened so far, with summaries of their priorities and group membership.

State Funding and Programs Working Group

Comprised of State staff only, this Working Group was formed in 2021 and has prioritized:

- Lived Experience: Providing guidance on the uses, targeting and deployment of State funding.
- Performance Measurement: Setting performance measurement targets for the scale of impact of state funding programs.

- Other strategies and activities to address inequities in homelessness and housing instability determined by the Working Group.

Additionally, the Racial Equity Working Group has designed a Racial Equity Implementation Hub to assist Council member departments and agencies in their work to center racial equity in the design and implementation of homelessness policies and programs. See below for more detail on the Racial Equity Implementation Hub.

Current participating departments include: Cal ICH, HCD, CDSS, CDCR, Cal OES, DHCS, CDPH, DOR, and CalVet, alongside a number of community members with expertise on homelessness and racial equity.

Youth and Young Adults Working Group

Including both State staff and community partners, this Working Group was formed in 2024 with a mission to bring together key youth and young adult partners from across the state to support statewide strategies to prevent and end homelessness by centering the lens and unique needs of youth and young adults in California. Initial Working Group priorities include, but are not limited to:

- Assessing the impact of State homelessness and housing programs in creating opportunities for youth and young adults.

Transitions and Re-Entry Working Group

Including both State staff and community partners, this Working Group is planned to be formed in 2025, with a mission of bringing together key partners from across the state to identify the major barriers to accessing housing for people leaving incarceration or under community supervision and provide recommendations on how to reduce homelessness among this population. Initial Working Group priorities may include, but are not limited to:

- Expanding the range of strategies and activities being implemented by State agencies serving individuals transitioning back into communities from institutional and corrections settings.
- Analyzing data and reporting across State programs to assess equity in access, housing interventions, services, and outcomes for individuals transitioning back into communities from institutional and corrections settings.
- Disaggregating data on communities identifying as Black or African American, Native American or Indigenous, Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, Hispanic/Latinx, Asian Americans, and other persons of color; people with disabilities; and lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersex, two-spirit individuals.
- Providing guidance to support communities, agencies, and organizations in implementing equitable policies and practices.
- Other strategies and activities determined by the Working Group.

Participating departments to include: Cal ICH, CDCR, Caltrans, CDSS, HCD, DHCS, DOR, CWDB, and CDA, alongside a number of community members with expertise on homelessness among people leaving incarceration.

Racial Equity Implementation Hub

In order to maintain a dedicated focus on addressing racial inequities within the work to prevent and end homelessness, Cal ICH and the Racial Equity Working Group (REWG) have designed the Racial Equity Implementation Hub to be built and launched in 2025.

As the Council works together toward the shared goal listed in this plan, it's crucial to recognize that success hinges not just on a strong plan but on effective and well-supported implementation. Implementation supports act as a bridge between policy and practice by ensuring state departments, providers, and local partners can deploy strategies aligned with the Action Plan's goals. Without support, there's a risk of this Plan's strategies not translating into meaningful action. Moreover, state departments need technical assistance, training, and resources to build and sustain the capacity required for undoing systemic racism and advancing systems alignment.

With the above acknowledgement, providing robust implementation support to Council partners is essential to translate the Action Plan into real-world outcomes. The path to preventing and ending homelessness is complex, and sustaining progress requires ongoing support. The Racial Equity Implementation Hub provides the structure and support needed to ensure that the implementation of the Action Plan results in racially equitable outcomes.

The Racial Equity Implementation Hub is a pivotal system component designed by the REWG. This Hub will serve as a resource center, providing consultation, coaching, and technical assistance to state departments. By leveraging the expertise and tools offered by the Hub, Cal ICH in partnership with the REWG aim to ensure that all strategies and interventions are equitable, culturally responsive, and effectively address the unique challenges faced by marginalized communities. By establishing the Racial Equity Implementation Hub, Cal ICH is committed to creating a more just and inclusive approach to ending homelessness, ensuring that all Californians have the opportunity to not only survive but thrive.

Key Components of the Racial Equity Implementation Hub include:

- Consultation and Coaching: Offering expert guidance to state departments on integrating racial equity principles into their policies and programs.
- Technical Assistance: Providing hands-on support to implement equity-driven solutions and overcome barriers to equitable service delivery.
- Resource Provision: Supplying tools, best practices, and frameworks to facilitate the development and execution of equitable strategies.
- Data Analysis and Monitoring: Assisting in the collection and analysis of disaggregated data to identify disparities and measure progress.
- Community Engagement: Ensuring that the voices of those most affected by homelessness are included in decision-making processes.

Plan Development Processes and Public Engagement

Council Planning Process

The process of creating this new Action Plan was initiated in Fall 2023. Cal ICH staff and consultant Matthew Doherty developed this Plan under the guidance and direction of the Council. The Plan's development was deeply informed by conversations with State staff from all Cal ICH member departments and agencies as well as input discussions with both internal and external partner groups.

Interagency Council meetings provided critical collaborative discussions and decisions during its development, focusing especially on:

- Reviewing progress achieved with and challenges in implementing the previous Action Plan;
- Shaping the planning processes;
- Identifying and refining the Plan's vision, guiding principles, and action areas;
- Identifying strategies for more coordinated action across Council members; and
- Establishing the Plan's goals.

Cal ICH staff facilitated regular input discussions with the Council's Lived Experience Advisory Board, Advisory Committee, and Working Groups throughout the planning process to inform the design of the Plan.

Engagement and Consultation with Partners

In addition, staff from Cal ICH and other Council member departments and agencies actively engaged with people and organizations outside of state government, seeking input and guidance to inform the Plan's priorities and actions.

These engagement activities included, but were not limited to:

- Formal and informal Tribal consultation with Tribes across the state. This included government-to-government consultations, hybrid regional Tribal listening sessions, and other opportunities for Plan feedback.
- Presentations at homelessness conferences and discussions with attendees on state efforts needed in the Plan.
- Presentations and discussions with state and local partners, advocates, and service providers.

Over the course of this Plan's development, Cal ICH staff engaged with hundreds of partners with expertise in a variety of areas to inform the design of this Plan to effectively prevent and end homelessness

This Action Plan was adopted by the California Interagency Council on Homelessness at its December 2024 meeting.
