Executive Summary and Origin

As part of the Rules Modernization Project, the Information Technology Advisory Committee recommends amending several rules related to electronic service and electronic filing. The purpose of the proposal is to conform the rules to the Code of Civil Procedure, clarify and remove redundancies in rule definitions, and ensure indigent filers are not required to have a payment mechanism to create an account with electronic filing service providers. The proposal includes amendments required by statute and suggested by the public.

Background

New provisions of Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6 require express consent for electronic service, which will require rule amendments and adoption of a form for withdrawal of consent. In addition, new provisions of Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6 require the Judicial Council to adopt rules of court related to disability access and electronic signatures for documents signed under penalty of perjury. Finally, the proposal includes amendments based on comments received from the public. These include amendments to the definitions and contract requirements between electronic filing service providers and courts.

The Proposal

The proposal would:

• Amend the definition of "document" in rule 2.250(b). The current wording can be read to mean that a document must be a filing. The proposed amendment removes this ambiguity by striking "filing" and replacing it with "writing" to clarify that a "document" is not necessarily a filing. The amendment was suggested by members of the public.

- Amend the definitions of "electronic service," "electronic transmission," and "electronic notification" in rule 2.250(b) to refer to the definitions in Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6 rather than duplicate them. This is to avoid risk of the rules and Code of Civil Procedure differing in their definitions should the Legislature amend Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6.
- Add a definition for "electronic filing manager." The proposal includes amendments to rule 2.255 to include electronic filings managers. Accordingly, a definition of electronic filing manager was also added. The proposed definition is based on descriptions the Judicial Council used of electronic filing managers in a request for proposals in 2017.
- Add a definition for "self-represented" to rule 2.250(b) and exclude attorneys from the definition. Rules applicable to self-represented persons were intended to add protections for those without an attorney. For example, self-represented persons are exempt from mandatory electronic filing. Attorneys acting for themselves are not acting without an attorney. Accordingly, attorneys are excluded from the definition of "self-represented" under the electronic filing and service rules. Because Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6 uses the term "unrepresented" and the rules use the term "self-represented," the definition in the rules refers to self-represented parties or other persons as being those unrepresented by an attorney. This proposal was a suggestion from a member of the public.
- Amend rule 2.251(b) to require express consent for permissive electronic service. The current rules allows the act of electronic filing to serve as consent to electronic service. Effective January 1, 2019, Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6 will no longer allow the act of electronic filing alone to serve as consent. (Code Civ. Proc, § 1010.6(a)(2)(A)(ii).) Under Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6, parties may still consent through electronic means by "manifesting affirmative consent through electronic means with the court or the court's electronic filing service provider, and concurrently providing the party's electronic service address with that consent for the purpose of receiving electronic service." The proposal amends the rules to remove the provision allowing the act of filing to serve as consent to electronic service and replace it with the language for manifesting affirmative consent by electronic means. Substantively, this is a technical amendment to ensure the rules comply with the statute. The proposal does not interpret the statute, however the committee seeks specific comments on whether there is a need for interpretation to provide more guidance to courts and electronic filing service providers.
- Amend rule 2.255 to add electronic filing managers within the scope of the rule. Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6(g)(2) requires that "[a]ny system for the electronic filing and service of documents, including any information technology applications, Internet Web sites, and Web-based applications, used by an electronic service provider or any other vendor or contractor that provides an electronic filing and service system to a trial court" be accessible by persons with disabilities and comply with certain access standards. Vendors and contractors must comply as soon as practicable, but no later than June 30, 2019. (Code Civ. Proc., § 1010.6(g)(3). Likewise, the statute requires the Judicial Council to adopt rules to implement the requirements as soon as practicable, but no later than June 30, 2019. (Code Civ. Proc., § 1010.6(g)(1). Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6 includes specific requirements that courts and contractors must meet. Rule 2.255 already requires courts contracting with electronic filing service providers to comply with Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6. However, because the rules do not account for contracts with electronic filing managers, the proposal amends rule 2.255 is amended to include them.

- Amend rule 2.255 to add subdivision (f) requiring require electronic filing service providers to allow filers to create an account without having to provide a credit card, debit card, or bank account information. The amendment is based on a suggestion from the State Bar Standing Committee on the Delivery of Legal Services. According to the standing committee, some electronic service providers require such payment information even if the filer is never charged. According to the standing committee, this "creates an insurmountable barrier to those without access to credit or banking services." Subdivision (f) provides that it only applies to the creation of an account, but not to the provision of services unless the filer has a fee waiver.
- Amend rule 2.257 to create a procedure for electronically filed documents signed under penalty of perjury. Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6(b)(2)(B)(ii) provides that when a document to be filed requires a signature made under penalty of perjury, the document is considered signed by the person if, in relevant part, "The person has signed the document using a computer or other technology pursuant to the procedure set forth in a rule of court adopted by the Judicial Council by January 1, 2019." Accordingly, the proposal creates a procedure where the document is deemed signed when the "declarant has signed the document using an electronic signature, and declares under penalty of perjury that the information submitted is true and correct." The language is modeled after the requirements in the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act for electronic signatures made under penalty of perjury. (Civ. Code, § 1633.11(b).) In addition, a definition of "electronic signature" is added to the rule modeled after the definitions used in UETA and the Code of Civil Procedure.

Alternatives Considered

The committee considered retaining the definitions of "electronic service," "electronic transmission," and "electronic notification" in rule 2.250(b) rather than referencing Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6 for the definitions. The committee considered that referencing the Code of Civil Procedure will create an extra step in looking up the definitions. However, the committee opted for the proposed language to remove the risk of having differing definitions should the Legislature amend Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6.

Implementation Requirements, Costs, and Operational Impacts

It is expected that the new express consent requirements will result in one-time costs to electronic filing service providers and courts to create a mechanism to capture affirmative consent by electronic means to electronic service. It is unknown whether or how these costs will impact fees electronic filing service providers charge filers for their services.

Request for Specific Comments

In addition to comments on the proposal as a whole, the advisory committee is interested in comments on the following:

- Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose?
- The technical amendments to rule 2.251(b) bring the rule into compliance with Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6's express consent requirements. The rule does not interpret the express consent requirements. Is there a need for interpretation of the statute to provide guidance to the courts and electronic filing service providers? If so, what specific guidance is needed?

(a)(b)Documents signed under penalty of perjury

When a document to be filed electronically provides for a signature under penalty of perjury of any person, the document is deemed to have been signed by that person if filed electronically provided that either of the following conditions is satisfied:

(1) The declarant has signed the document using an electronic signature a computer or other technology, in accordance with procedures, standards, and guidelines established by the Judicial Council and declares under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of California that the information submitted is true and correct; or

(2) The declarant, before filing, has physically signed a printed form of the document. By electronically filing the document, the electronic filer certifies that the original, signed document is available for inspection and copying at the request of the court or any other party. In the event this second method of submitting documents electronically under penalty of perjury is used, the following conditions apply:

(A) At any time after the electronic version of the document is filed, any party may serve a demand for production of the original signed document. The demand must be served on all other parties but need not be filed with the court.

(B) Within five days of service of the demand under (A), the party or other person on whom the demand is made must make the original signed document available for inspection and copying by all other parties.

(C) At any time after the electronic version of the document is filed, the court may order the filing party or other person to produce the original signed document in court for inspection and copying by the court. The order must specify the date, time, and place for the production and must be served on all parties.

(D) Notwithstanding (A)–(C), local child support agencies may maintain original, signed pleadings by way of an electronic copy in the statewide automated child support system and must maintain them only for the period of time stated in Government Code section 68152(a). Executive Summary and Origin

As part of the Rules Modernization Project, the Information Technology Advisory Committee and Civil and Small Claims Advisory Committee recommend adopting a new form for withdrawal of consent to electronic service. The purpose of the proposal is to comply with Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6(a)(6), which requires the Judicial Council to create such a form by January 1, 2019.

The Proposal

The proposed form is Judicial Council form EFS-006-CV, Withdrawal of Consent to Electronic Service. Under Code of Civil Procedure section 1010.6(a)(6), "A party or other person who has provided express consent to accept service electronically may withdraw consent at any time by completing and filing with the court the appropriate Judicial Council form. The Judicial Council shall create the form by January 1, 2019." The proposed form is modeled after current form EFS-005-CV, Consent to Electronic Service and Notice of Electronic Service Address.

Alternatives Considered

Because the form is required by statute, no alternative was considered.

Implementation Requirements, Costs, and Operational Impacts

It is not expected that the new form will result in any significant costs or operational impacts on the courts.

Executive Summary and Origin

The proposal makes limited amendments to rules governing public access to electronic trial court records, and creates a new set of rules governing remote access to such records by parties, parties' attorneys, court-appointed persons, authorized persons working in a legal organization or qualified legal services project, and government entities. The purpose of the proposal is to facilitate existing relationships and provide clear authority to the courts.

The project to develop the new rules originated with the California Judicial Branch Tactical Plan for Technology (2017-2018). Under the tactical plan, a major task under the "Technology Initiatives to Promote Rule and Legislative Changes" is to develop rules "for online access to court records for parties and justice partners[.]" (Judicial Council of Cal., California Judicial Branch Tactical Plan for Technology (2017-2018) (2017), p. 47.)

Background

Existing rules govern public access to electronic trial court records (Cal. Rules of Court, rules 2.500—2.507), but do not govern access to such records by parties, their attorneys, or justice partners. (See Cal. Rules of Court, rule 2.501(b).) Because courts are moving swiftly forward with making remote access to records available to these persons and entities, it is important to provide authority and guidance for the courts and others on these expanded forms of remote access.

Under the leadership of the Information Technology Committee (ITAC), nine advisory committees¹ formed the Joint Ad Hoc Subcommittee on Remote Access to develop remote access rules applicable to parties, their attorneys, and justice partners. The formation of the Joint Ad Hoc Subcommittee for this purpose was approved by the advisory bodies' internal oversight committees.

The Proposal

The existing rules governing electronic access to trial court records are found in of chapter 2 of division 4 of title 2 of the California Rules of Court (hereafter, chapter 2). Chapter 2's rules currently apply "only to access to court records by the public" and limit what is remotely accessible by the public to registers of action, calendars, indexes, and court records in specific case types. (Cal. Rules of Court, rules 2.501(b), 2.503(b).) The rules in chapter 2 "do not limit access to court records by a party to an action or proceeding, by the attorney of a party, or by other persons or entities that are entitled to access by statute or rule." (Rule 2.501(b).)

Because chapter 2 only limits public remote access, there is a gap in the rules with respect to persons and entities that are not the public at large such as parties, parties' attorneys, and justice partners. Courts have had to fill this gap on a piecemeal, ad hoc basis. The purpose of the proposal is to create a new set of rules applicable statewide governing remote access to electronic records to provide more structure, guidance, and authority for the courts. The proposal does not create a right to remote access and it does not provide for a higher level of access to court records using remote access than one would get by viewing court records at the courthouse.

The proposal restructures and expands the scope of chapter 2. The proposal breaks chapter 2 into four articles to cover not only access by the public, but also to cover access by parties, their attorneys, legal organizations, court-appointed persons, and government entities. In brief, the new structure consists of:

- Article 1: General Provisions. This article builds on existing rules, covers broad concepts on access to electronic records, and expands on the definitions of terms used in chapter 2.
- Article 2: Public Access. This article consists of the existing public access rules, with minor amendments.
- Article 3: Remote Electronic Access by a Party, Party's Attorney, Court-Appointed Person, or Authorized Persons Working in a Legal Organization or Qualified Legal Services Project. The content of this article is new and covers remote electronic access by those listed in the article's title.

• Article 4: Remote Electronic Access by Government Entities. The content of this article is new and covers remote electronic access by government entities.

Article 1: General Provisions

This article builds on existing rules and broadens the scope of chapter 2 beyond public access.

Rule 2.500. Statement of Purpose. The proposal amends the rule to expand the scope of the chapter to include access by parties, parties' attorneys, legal organizations, court-appointed persons, and government entities. Language on access to confidential and sealed records is stricken from subdivision (c) because the rules do allow access to such records for those who would be legally entitled to access them, e.g., while the public at large may not be legally entitled to access a sealed record under any circumstance, a party that could access a sealed record at the courthouse would be able to access that record remotely under the new rules.

Rule 2.501. Application, scope, and information to the public. The proposal amends subdivision (a) to provide more explanation of what types of records are and are not within the scope of chapter 2's provisions. Chapter 2 only governs access to "court records" as defined in chapter 2 and not any other type of record that is not a "court record." The proposal also adds an advisory committee comment providing additional details about the limitation in the scope of the rules to "court records."

The proposal amends subdivision (b) by striking out the existing language and replacing it with a new provision. The existing language is stricken out because the rules of the chapter in the proposal expand the scope beyond public access and so the limitations in the existing language are no longer applicable. Because the new rules expand the scope of remote access by allowing a greater level of remote access by certain persons and entities, the new provision requires courts to provide information to the public on who may access their court records under the rules of the chapter. Courts may provide the information by linking to information that will be publicly posted on courts.ca.gov and may also supplement with information on their own sites in plain language.

Rule 2.502. Definitions. The proposal expands on the definitions found in rule 2.502 by adding new terms applicable to the expanded scope of chapter 2. The proposal also makes minor edits to the existing definitions. Most of the definitions are discussed in other sections below where the terms are applicable. For example, the meaning of "government entity" is discussed below in conjunction with article 4, which covers remote access by government entities.

One item of note, however, is that within the scope of chapter 2, a "person" is a natural human being. The reason for this is that the remote access rules are highly person-centric when describing who can access what. Ultimately, the new rules contemplate that there will be some natural human being remotely accessing electronic court records and the rules identify which natural humans are authorized to do so. This is not to say the organizational entities cannot have access, but they must do so through natural persons.

Article 2: Public Access

Article 2 largely retains the existing public access rules found in rules 2.503—2.507. Rule 2.503 is the only one of these rules with substantive amendments and those amendments are minor. The amendments clarify that the rules in article 2 only apply to access to electronic records by the public.

The amendments also make a technical change to the list of electronic records to which a court must provide for electronic access by the public. Under rule 2.503(b), all records in civil cases must be available remotely, if feasible, except for those listed in rule 2.503(c)(1)—(9). Rule 2.503(c) lists all the case types where electronic access must be provided at the courthouse, but must not be provided remotely. However, under rule 2.503(c) there are ten case types, not nine. The omission in rule 2.503(b) of the tenth case type was accidental. Rule 2.503(c) was amended effective January 1, 2012 with an addition of a tenth case type, but there was no corresponding amendment to the reference to the list in rule 2.503(b). The proposal corrects the incongruity between subdivisions (b) and (c) of rule 2.503.

Article 3: Remote Electronic Access by a Party, Party's Attorney, Court-Appointed Person, or Authorized Persons Working in a Legal Organization or Qualified Legal Services Project

Article 3 contains new rules to cover remote electronic access by a party, party's attorney, court-appointed person, or authorized persons working in a legal organization or qualified legal services project. Each of these types of remote accessors are discussed below. The rules make clear that article 3 is not intended to limit remote electronic access available under article 2 (the public access rules). Accordingly, if someone could have remote electronic access to a court record under article 2, that person may do so without meeting the requirements of article 3. The rules under article 3, like the public access rules, require courts to provide remote electronic access if it is feasible to do so. Finally, the rules in article 3 include requirements for identity verification, security of confidential information, and additional conditions of access.

The rules in article 3 have occasional, intentional repetition with a goal of ensuring that the rules are clear for a person accessing the records. For example, under rule 2.515, which is the rule explaining the scope of article 3, there is a provision stating that article 3 does not limit the access available under article 2. This is repeated in rule 2.517, which is the rule applicable to parties. This is so that parties, who may not be versed in reading rules of court, do not have to search to understand that their ability to gain public access in article 2 is not limited by rule.

Rule 2.515. Application and scope. The proposed rule provides an overview of the scope of article 3 and who may access electronic records under article 3.

Rule 2.516. Remote access to extent feasible. The proposed rule requires courts to allow remote access to electronic records to the types of users identified in rule 2.515. This is similar to the public access requirement existing in rule 2.503. The advisory committee comment recognizes financial means of technical capabilities may impact the feasibility of providing remote access.

Rule 2.517. Remote access by a party. The proposed rule allows broad access to remote electronic court records to a person (defined as a natural human being in the definitions in rule 2.502) when accessing electronic records in actions or proceedings in which that person is a party. The reason for this limitation is that there must ultimately be a natural human being who accesses the records. Parties that are not natural human beings can still gain access to their own electronic records, but must do though through an attorney or other "authorized person" under the other rules in article 3 or, for certain government entities, article 4.

Rule 2.518. Remote access by a party's designee. The proposed rule allows a party who is a natural person to designate other persons to access the party's electronic records provided that the party is at least 18 years of age. The rule allows the party to set limits on the designee's access such as to specific cases or for a specific period of time. In addition, the designee may only have the same access to a party's electronic records that a member of the public would be entitled to if he or she were to inspect the party's court records at the courthouse. For example, if a court record is sealed and the designee would not be entitled to view the court record at the courthouse, the designee cannot remotely access the electronic record. The rule sets forth basic terms of access, though there may be additional terms in a user agreement set by the court. The rule does not prescribe a particular method for establishing a designation as this may depend on the preferences and technical capabilities of individual courts.

Rule 2.519. Remote access by a party's attorney. The proposed rule allows a party's attorney to remotely access electronic records in the party's actions or proceedings. Remote access may also be provided to an attorney appointed by the court to represent a party pending the final order of appointment. Attorneys may also potentially gain access through rule 2.518, in which case, the provisions of that rule rather than 2.519 would apply.

Attorneys who are attorneys of record should be known to the court for remote access purposes since they are of record. The rule also accounts for providing remote access to attorneys who are not the attorneys of record in an underlying proceeding who may nonetheless be assisting a party. For example, an attorney may be assisting a party with limited aspects of their case, like document preparation, without becoming the attorney of record. Rule 2.518(c) requires an attorney who is not of record to obtain the party's consent to remotely access the party's court records and represent to the court in the remote access system that the attorney has obtained the party's consent. This provides a mechanism for an attorney not of record to be known to the court and provides the court with assurance that the party has agreed to allow the attorney to remotely access the party's electronic records. The proposed rule also sets forth basic terms of access.

Rule 2.520. Remote access by persons working in the same legal organization as a party's attorney. Because attorneys often work with other attorneys and legal staff, proposed rule 2.519 allows remote access by persons "working in" the same "legal organization" as a party's attorney. Both "legal organization" and "working in" are broad in scope. Under the definitions in rule 2.502, "legal organization" means "a licensed attorney or group of attorneys, nonprofit legal aid organization, government legal office, in-house legal office of a non-governmental organization, or legal program organized to provide for indigent criminal, civil, or juvenile law representation." Those "working in" the same legal organization as a party's attorney may include partners, associates, employees, volunteers, and contractors. The goal with the definition of "legal organization" and the scope of "working in" is intended to capture a full range of ways that attorneys may be working together and with others to provide representation to a party.

Under rule 2.519, a party's attorney can designate other persons working in the same legal organization to have remote access and the attorney must certify that those persons are working in the same legal organization and assisting the attorney with the party's case. The rule does not require certification to take any specific form. The proposed rule also sets forth basic terms of access.

Rule 2.521. Remote access by a court-appointed person. There are proceedings where the court may appoint someone to participate in a proceeding or represent the interests of someone who is not technically a "party" to a proceeding (e.g., a minor child in a custody proceeding). The rule provides common examples of court-appointed persons, but does not limit remote access to those examples. The proposed rule also sets forth basic terms of access.

Rule 2.522. Remote access by persons working in a qualified legal services project providing brief legal services. The proposed rule allows remote access to electronic records by persons "working in" a "qualified legal services project" providing "brief legal services." The rule contemplates legal aid programs offering limited, short-term services to individuals with their court matters.

"Brief legal services" for purposes of chapter 2 is defined in rule 2.502 and means "legal assistance provided without, or prior to, becoming a party's attorney. It includes advice, consultation, research, investigating case facts, drafting documents, and making limited third party contacts on behalf of a client."

The rule only applies to qualified legal services projects as defined in Business and Professions Code section 6213(a). The purpose of this limitation is to ensure that the organizations are bona fide entities subject to professional standards. The definition of "qualified legal services project" under Business and Professions Code 6213(a) is:

(1) A nonprofit project incorporated and operated exclusively in California that provides as its primary purpose and function legal services without charge to indigent persons and that has quality control procedures approved by the State Bar of California.

- (2) A program operated exclusively in California by a nonprofit law school accredited by the State Bar of California that meets the requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (B).
 - (A) The program shall have operated for at least two years at a cost of at least twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) per year as an identifiable law school unit with a primary purpose and function of providing legal services without charge to indigent persons.
 - (B) The program shall have quality control procedures approved by the State Bar of California.

Where an attorney from a qualified legal services project does become a party's attorney and offers services beyond the scope contemplated under this rule, the remote access rules for a party's attorney would also provide a mechanism for access as could the party's designee rule. The proposed rule also sets forth basic terms of access.

Rule 2.523. Identity verification, identity management, and user access. The proposed rule requires a court to verify of a person eligible to have remote access to electronic records under article 3. Subdivision (b) describes the responsibilities of the court to verify identities and provide unique credentials to users. The rule does not prescribe any particular mechanism for identity verification or credentials as the best solutions may differ from court-to-court. Subdivision (c) describes responsibilities of users to provide necessary information for identity verification, consent to conditions of access, and only access the records the user is authorized to access. Subdivision (d) describes responsibilities of legal organizations and qualified legal services projects to verify the identity of users it designates and notify the court when a user is no longer working in the legal organization or qualified legal services project. Subdivision (e) makes it clear that courts may enter into contracts or participate in statewide master agreements for identity verification, identity management, or access management systems.

Rule 2.524. Security of confidential information. The proposed rule requires that where there is information in an electronic record that is confidential by law or sealed by court order, remote access must be provided through a secure platform and transmissions of the information must be encrypted. Like with the identity verification requirements, courts may participate in contracts for secure access and encryption services.

Rule 2.525. Searches and access to electronic records in search results. The proposed rule allows users who have access under article 3 to search for records by case number or case caption. The court must ensure that only users authorized to remotely access electronic records are able to access those records. The limitation on searches by case number or case caption is intended to prevent inadvertent unauthorized access. However, recognizing that unauthorized access may still occur, the rule includes measures for the user to take in that event.

Rule 2.526. Audit trails. The purpose of the proposed rule is to ensure courts are able to see who remotely accessed electronic records, under whose authority the user gained access, what electronic records were accessed, and under whose authority the user gained access. The audit trail is a tool to assist the courts in identifying and investigating any potential issues or misuse of remote access. The rule also requires the court to provide limited audit trails to authorized users remotely accessing remote records under article 3. The limited audit trail would only show who remotely access electronic records in a particular case, but would not show which specific electronic records were accessed. The reason for this more limited view at the case level rather than individual electronic record level is to protect confidential information.

Rule 2.527. Additional conditions of access. The proposed rule requires courts to impose reasonable conditions on remote electronic access to preserve the integrity of court records, prevent the unauthorized use of information, and limit possible legal liability. The court may require users to enter into user agreements defining the terms of access, providing for compliance audits, specifying the scope of any liability, and providing for sanctions for misuse up to and including termination of remote access. The court may require each user to submit a signed, written agreement, but the rule does not prescribe any particular format or technical solution for the signature or agreement.

Rule 2.528. Termination of remote access. The proposed rule makes clear that remote access to electronic records is a privilege and not a right and that courts may terminate any grant of permission for remote access.

Article 4: Remote Electronic Access by Government Entities

Article 4 contains new rules to cover remote access by government entities for legitimate governmental purposes by persons the government entities authorize. Under the definitions in rule 2.502, "government entity" means "a legal entity organized to carry on some function of the State of California or a political subdivision of the State of California. A government entity is also a federally recognized Indian tribe or a reservation, department, subdivision, or court of a federally recognized Indian tribe."

Rule 2.540. Application and scope. The proposed rule identifies which government entities may have remote access to which types of electronic records and is geared toward government entities that have a high volume of business before the court with respect to certain case types. Because it may be impossible to anticipate all needs across California's 58 counties and superior courts, the rule includes a "good cause" provision under which a court may grant remote access to electronic court records in particular case types beyond those specifically identified in the rule. The standard for "good cause" is that the government entity requires access to the electronic records in order to adequately perform its statutory duties or fulfill its responsibilities in litigation.

The proposed rule does not preclude government entities from gaining access to court records through articles 2 and 3. The proposed rule does not grant higher levels of access to court records than currently exists. Rather, like with the rules under article 3, it only provides for remote access to records that the government entity would be able to obtain if its agents appeared at the courthouse to inspect the records in person.

- Rule 2.541. Identity verification, identity management, and user access. The proposed rule largely mirrors rule 2.523 and describes responsibilities of the court, authorized persons, and government entities for identity verification and user access. The proposed rule also makes it clear that courts may enter into contracts or participate in statewide master agreements for identity verification, identity management, or access management systems.
- Rule 2.542. Security of confidential information. The proposed rule largely mirrors rule 2.524 in requiring secured platforms and encryption of confidential or sealed electronic records, and authorizes courts to participate in contracts for secure access and encryption services.
- Rule 2.543. Audit trails. The proposed rule mirrors rule 2.526 requiring the court to be able to generate audit trails and provide limited audit trails to authorized users.
- Rule 2.544. Additional conditions of access. The proposed rule mirrors rule 2.527 requiring courts to impose reasonable conditions of access.
- Rule 2.545. Termination of remote access. The proposed rule makes clear that remote access to electronic records is a privilege and not a right and that courts may terminate any grant of permission for remote access.

Implementation Requirements, Costs, and Operational Impacts

The rules require the courts to provide remote access under the new rules if it is feasible to do so and the rules recognize that financial and technological limitations may impact the feasibility of providing remote access. If feasible, implementation would require courts to create user agreements and have systems capable of complying with the rules. Costs and specific implementation requirements would be variable across the courts depending on current capabilities and approach to providing services.

Request for Specific Comments

In addition to comments on the proposal as a whole, the advisory committee is interested in comments on the following:

- Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose?
- Proposed rule 2.518 would allow a person who is a party and who is at least 18 years of age, to designate other persons to have remote access to the party's electronic records.
 What exceptions, if any, should apply where a person under 18 years of age could designate another?
- The reference to "concurrent jurisdiction" in proposed rule 2.540(b)(1)(xi) is intended to capture cases in which a tribal entity would have a right to access the court records at the court depending on the nature of the case and type of tribal involvement. Is "concurrent jurisdiction" the best way to describe such cases or would a different phrasing be more accurate?
- Is the standard for "good cause" in proposed rule 2.540(b)(1)(xii) clear?
- The proposed rules have some internal redundancies. This was intentional in development of the rules with the goal of reducing the number of places someone reading the rules would need to look to understand how they apply. For example, "terms of access" in article 4 repeat across different types of users to limit how many rules a user would need to review to understand certain requirements. As another example, rules on identity verification requirements repeat in articles 4 and 5. Does the organization of the rules, including the redundant language, provide clear guidance? Would another organizational scheme be clearer?

The advisory committee also seeks comments from courts on the following cost and implementation matters:

- Would the proposal provide cost savings? If so please quantify.
- What would the implementation requirements be for courts? For example, training staff (please identify position and expected hours of training), revising processes and procedures (please describe), changing docket codes in case management systems, or modifying case management systems.
- What implementation guidance, if any, would courts find helpful?

Rule 2.501. Application, and scope, and information to the public

(a) Application and scope

The rules in this chapter apply only to trial court records as defined in Rule 2.502 (4). They do not apply to statutorily mandated reporting between or within government entities, the California Courts Protective Order Registry, or any other documents or materials that are not court records.

(b) Access by parties and attorneys Information to the public

The rules in this chapter apply only to access to court records by the public. They do not limit access to court records by a party to an action or proceeding, by the attorney of a party, or by other persons or entities that are entitled to access by statute or rule.

The website for each trial court must include a link to information that will inform the public of who may access their electronic records under the rules in this chapter and under what conditions they may do so. This information will be posted publicly on www.courts.ca.gov. Each trial court may post additional information, in plain language, as necessary to inform the public about the level of access that the particular trial court is providing.

Advisory Committee Comment

The rules on remote access do not apply beyond court records to other types of documents, information, or data. Rule 2.502 defines a court record as "any document, paper, or exhibit filed in an action or proceeding; any order or judgment of the court; and any item listed in Government Code section 68151(a), excluding any reporter's transcript for which the reporter is entitled to receive a fee for any copy. The term does not include the personal notes or preliminary memoranda of judges or other judicial branch personnel, materials in the California Courts Protective Order Registry, statutorily mandated reporting between government entities, judicial administrative records, court case information, or compilations of data drawn from court records where the compilations are not themselves contained in a court record." (Rule 2.502(4), Cal. Rules of Court.) Thus, courts generate and maintain many types of information that are not court records and to which access may be restricted by law. Such information is not remotely accessible as court records, even to parties and their attorneys. If parties and their attorneys are entitled to access to any such additional information, separate and independent grounds for that access must exist.

Rule 2.502. Definitions

As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Authorized person" means a person authorized by a legal organization, qualified legal services project, or government entity to access electronic records.

(2) "Brief legal services" means legal assistance provided without, or before, becoming a party's attorney. It includes advice, consultation, research, investigating case facts, drafting documents, and making limited third party contacts on behalf of a client.

(1)(3) "Court record" is any document, paper, or exhibit filed by the parties to in an action or proceeding; any order or judgment of the court; and any item listed in Government Code section 68151(a), excluding any reporter's transcript for which the reporter is entitled to receive a fee for any copy, that is maintained by the court in the ordinary course of the judicial process. The term does not include the personal notes or preliminary memoranda of judges or other judicial branch personnel, materials in the California Courts Protective Order Registry, statutorily mandated reporting between or within government entities, judicial administrative records, court case information, or compilations of data drawn from court records where the compilations are not themselves contained in a court record.

(4) "Court case information" consists of information created and maintained by a court about a case or cases that is not part of the court records that are filed with the court.

This includes information in the case management system and case histories.

(4)(5) "Electronic access" means computer access by electronic means to court records available to the public through both public terminals at the courthouse and remotely, unless otherwise specified in the rules in this chapter.

(2)(6) "Electronic record" is a computerized court record that requires the use of an electronic device to access, regardless of the manner in which it has been computerized. The term includes both a document record that has been filed electronically and an electronic copy or version of a record that was filed in paper form. The term does not include a court record that is maintained only on paper, microfiche, or any other medium that can be read without the use of an electronic device.

(7) "Government entity" means a legal entity organized to carry on some function of the State of California or a political subdivision of the State of California. A

The court may order any party who files a document containing such information to provide the court with both an original unredacted version of the document for filing in the court file and a redacted version of the document for remote electronic access. No juror names or other juror identifying information may be provided by remote electronic access. This subdivision does not apply to any document in the original court file; it applies only to documents that are available by remote electronic access.

(3) Five days' notice must be provided to the parties and the public before the court makes a determination to provide remote electronic access under this rule. Notice to the public may be accomplished by posting notice on the court's Web site. Any person may file comments with the court for consideration, but no hearing is required.

(4) The court's order permitting remote electronic access must specify which court records will be available by remote electronic access and what categories of information are to be redacted. The court is not required to make findings of fact. The court's order must be posted on the court's Web site and a copy sent to the Judicial Council.

Advisory Committee Comment

The rule allows a level of access by the public to all electronic records that is at least equivalent to the access that is available for paper records and, for some types of records, is much greater. At the same time, it seeks to protect legitimate privacy concerns.

Subdivision (c). This subdivision excludes certain records (those other than the register, calendar, and indexes) in specified types of cases (notably criminal, juvenile, and family court matters) from public remote electronic access. The committee recognized that while these case records are public records and should remain available at the courthouse, either in paper or electronic form, they often contain sensitive personal information. The court should not publish that information over the Internet. However, the committee also recognized that the use of the Internet may be appropriate in certain criminal cases of extraordinary public interest where information regarding a case will be widely disseminated through the media. In such cases, posting of selected nonconfidential court records, redacted where necessary to protect the privacy of the participants, may provide more timely and accurate information regarding the court proceedings, and may relieve substantial burdens on court staff in responding to individual requests for documents and information. Thus, under subdivision (e), if the presiding judge makes individualized

| 4 | | livisions (f) and (g). These subdivisions limit electronic access to records (other than the |
| 5 | _ | ter, calendars, or indexes) to a case-by-case basis and prohibit bulk distribution of those |
| 6 | | rds. These limitations are based on the qualitative difference between obtaining information |
| 7 | | a specific case file and obtaining bulk information that may be manipulated to compile |
| 8 9 | • | onal information culled from any document, paper, or exhibit filed in a lawsuit. This type of egate information may be exploited for commercial or other purposes unrelated to the |

| 2 | Advisory Committee Comment |
| 3 | |
| 4 | Article 2 allows remote access in most civil cases and the rules in article 3 are not intended to |
| 5 | limit that access. Rather, the article 3 rules allow broader remote access by parties, parties' |
| 6 | attorneys, authorized persons working in legal organizations, authorized persons working in a |
| 7 | qualified legal services project providing brief services, and court-appointed persons to those |
| 8 | electronic records where remote access by the public is not allowed. |
| 9 | |
| 10 | Under the rules in article 3, a party, a party's attorney, an authorized person working in the same |
| 11 | legal organization as a party's attorney, or a person appointed by the court in the proceeding |
| 12 | basically has the same level of access to electronic records remotely that they would have if they |
| 13 | were to seek to inspect the records in person at the courthouse. Thus, if they are legally entitled to |
| 14 | inspect certain records at the courthouse, they could view the same records remotely; on the other |
| 15 | hand, if they are restricted from inspecting certain court records at the courthouse (for example, |
| 16 | because the records are confidential or sealed), they would not be permitted to view the records |
| 17 | remotely. In some types of cases, such as unlimited civil cases, the access available to parties and |
| 18 | their attorneys is generally similar to the public's but in other types of cases, such as juvenile |
| 19 | cases, it is much more extensive (see Cal. Rules of Court, rule 5.552). |
| 20 | |
| 21 | For authorized persons working in a qualified legal services program, the rule contemplates |
| 22 | services offered in high-volume environments on an ad hoc basis. There are some limitations on |
| 23 | access under the rule for qualified legal services projects. Where an attorney at a qualified legal |
| 24 | services project does become a party's attorney and offers services beyond the scope |
| 25 | contemplated under this rule, the access rules for a party's attorney would apply. |
| 26 | |
| 27 | Rule 2.516. Remote access to extent feasible |
| 28 | |
| 29 | To the extent feasible, a court that maintains records in electronic form must provide |
| 30 | remote access to those records to the users described in rule 2.515, subject to the |
| 31 | conditions and limitations stated in this article and otherwise provided by law. |
| 32 | |
| 33 | Advisory Committee Comment |
| 34 | |
| 35 | This rule takes into account the limited resources currently available in some trial courts. Many |
| 36 | courts may not have the financial means or the technical capabilities necessary to provide the full |
| 37 | range of remote access to electronic records authorized by this article. When it is more feasible |
| 38 | and courts have more experience with remote access, these rules may be modified to further |
| 39 | expand remote access. |

| 23 | (b) Responsibilities of the courts |
| 24 | |
| 25 | A court that allows persons eligible under the rules in article 4 to have remote access |

| 8 | | |
| 9 | (| 2) If a person accessing electronic records on behalf of a government entity leaves |
| 10 | | his or her position or for any other reason is no longer entitled to access, the |

| 33 | | |
| 34 | | A court may enter into a contract with a vendor to provide secure access and |
| 35 | | encryption services. Alternatively, if a statewide master agreement is available for |
