Executive Summary and Origin

The Probate and Mental Health Advisory Committee proposes revising two forms in response to recent legislation that changed the statutory procedure for claiming succession to real property by raising the maximum value of the property claimed to $750,000 and limiting the application of the procedure to succession to a decedent's primary residence in California. The proposed form revisions would conform to these changes and make technical and formatting corrections.

Background

Effective January 1, 2025, Assembly Bill 2016 (Stats. 2024, ch. 331) amended Probate Code sections 13150, 13151, 13152, and 13154 and repealed section 13158.¹ These amendments narrow the scope of the procedure used to claim succession to a decedent's real and personal property in California if the gross value of the decedent's estate in California falls below a specified value. That procedure may now be used only for succession to real property that was the decedent's "primary residence in this state" if the gross value of "that real property" does not

¹ All further statutory references are to the Probate Code. AB 2016 also amended sections 13100 and 13101, which govern the affidavit procedure for collection or transfer of personal property. The property used to determine eligibility for that procedure now excludes "any property included in a petition filed under Section 13151." Because the affidavit used in this procedure is not submitted to the court but is instead given directly to the holder of the property to be collected, there is no applicable Judicial Council affidavit form.

This proposal has not been approved by the Judicial Council and is not intended to represent the views of the council, its Rules Committee, or its Legislation Committee. It is circulated for comment purposes only.

exceed the threshold amount.² The legislation also, effective April 1, 2025, increases the maximum value of the subject real property to $750,000, to be further adjusted every three years according to the procedure in section 890.³

The Proposal

Petition to Determine Succession to Real Property (form DE-310) and Order Determining Succession to Real Property (form DE-315) are currently used for the procedure described above. The statutory amendments require revisions to these forms to allow their continued use for the new procedure. The committee proposes, effective April 28, 2025, to:

- Revise form DE-310 by:
 - Retitling the form as Petition to Determine Succession to Primary Residence in California;
 - Updating item 1 to specify that the real property that is the subject of the petition was the decedent’s primary residence in California and not any other real or personal property;⁴
 - Revising item 8 to refer only to the real property that is the subject of the petition and to update the maximum values of that property;
 - Updating item 11 to limit the scope of the property description to the property that is the subject of the petition and to require that, in addition to a statement of the decedent’s interest in the real property, the petition include facts showing that the property was the decedent’s primary residence in California; and
 - Revising items 12 and 13 to refer more specifically to the real property that is the subject of the petition; and

² See, e.g., Stats. 2024, ch. 331, § 4, amending § 13151. The amendments have the peculiar effect of allowing a decedent to have more than one “primary residence” but only one such residence in California. This effect was acknowledged and accepted by the bill’s author and sponsor.

³ The committee also plans to recommend technical revisions to Maximum Values for Small Estate Set-Aside & Disposition of Estate Without Administration (form DE-300) and Affidavit re Real Property of Small Value (form DE-305) to reflect the amount increased by AB 2016 and other amounts adjusted according to the requirements in section 890. All adjusted amounts will take effect April 1, 2025, and be published by that date on the California courts website. Because the revisions to forms DE-300 and DE-305 will do no more than apply the formula mandated by section 890(b), the committee plans to recommend their adoption along with the forms in this proposal, effective April 28, 2025, without circulating them for public comment.

⁴ The Probate Code no longer authorizes a petition procedure for succession to real or personal property of small value other than a decedent’s primary residence in California. Section 13152(f), as amended, makes clear that the procedure to succeed to the decedent’s primary residence in California applies regardless of the decedent’s date of death. (See also § 13152(a)(2).) The affidavit procedures under section 13100 et seq. (personal property) and section 13200 et seq. (real property) will remain available after January 1, 2025, for succession to property of small value.

- Revise form DE-315 by:
 - Retitling the form as Order Determining Succession to Primary Residence in California;
 - Revising item 6 to refer more specifically to the real property that is the subject of the order and to update the maximum values of that property;
 - Revising item 7 to refer more specifically to the property that is the subject of the order;
 - Adding new item 8, a finding that the real property that is the subject of the petition was the decedent’s primary residence in California; and
 - Renumbering existing item 8 as item 9 and revising it to specify more precisely the property that is the subject of the order.

The forms, as proposed to be revised, are attached at pages 5–7.

Alternatives Considered

The committee did not consider the alternative of taking no action because the form revisions are required to implement statutory changes affecting litigants, including self-represented litigants, and to bring the forms into compliance with current law. The committee did consider proposing different effective dates for the revisions. Initially, the committee considered proposing a January 1, 2026, effective date, but determined that an earlier effective date would be more appropriate. Because the increase to the maximum value of eligible property takes effect April 1, 2025, delaying implementation beyond that date longer than necessary would frustrate self-represented litigants who attempted to claim residences belonging to decedents who had died on or after April 1 that were valued at more than $184,500 but less than $750,000.

The committee also considered proposing a January 1, 2025, effective date, with circulation for comment after council approval. Although AB 2016’s limitation of the statutory process to a decedent’s primary residence in California does take effect on January 1, the committee determined that the existing forms may be used without modification to succeed to a decedent’s primary residence until May 12, 2025. That is the first day on which a person may file a petition under section 13151 to succeed to a decedent’s primary residence that is valued between $184,500 and $750,000.⁵ In addition, even if the council revised the forms effective January 1, 2025, it would need to revise them again on or shortly after the April 1, 2025, effective date of the adjustment of the maximum property value. The committee concluded that two separate but related revisions of the same forms within four months of one another would cause confusion exceeding any benefit of an earlier effective date. For these reasons, the committee proposes that all form revisions take effect April 28, 2025, the Monday after the meeting at which the Judicial Council will consider proposals circulated for comment this winter cycle.

Fiscal and Operational Impacts

The only fiscal or operational impacts this proposal may have on courts or litigants are the costs of replacing outdated forms and reprogramming digital case management systems. Because the changes are required by statute, their impacts cannot be avoided.

Request for Specific Comments

In addition to comments on the proposal as a whole, the advisory committee is interested in comments on the following:

- Does the proposal appropriately address the stated purpose?

The advisory committee also seeks comments from courts on the following cost and implementation matters:

- Would the proposal provide cost savings? If so, please quantify.
- What would the implementation requirements be for courts—for example, training staff (please identify position and expected hours of training), revising processes and procedures (please describe), changing docket codes in case management systems, or modifying case management systems?
- How well would this proposal work in courts of different sizes?
